Security Council Told U.S. Ships Prevent Invasion

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Dominican Republic declared Friday it welcomed the presence of U. S. warships off its shores as a bulwark against any attempt at invasion by Cuba "or other Communist countries."

"Blessed be the moment that the United States fleet came into our waters," the Dominican delegate, Jose Antonio Bonilla Atilas, told the U. N. Security Council.

Bonilla Atilas, who said he was a member of an opposition party in his country, and Dominican Ambassador Carlos Sanchez y Sanchez both denied Cuban charges that U.S. warships and planes had violated Dominican territorial waters.

MAKES DEMANDS

Mario Garcia-Inchausti, the Cuban delegate, reiterated demands that the council condemn the United States as an aggressor and call for withdrawal of U.S. ships from the area.

He claimed that the Dominican people were not represented by the two Dominican delegates. He charged that the same forces which supported the Trujillo dictatorship now support President Joaquin Balaguer.

He said his country asked for the council meeting because it was threatened by aggressive actions of U.S. forces. He declared that the Dominican Republic must be freed "despite the U.S. intervention, despite the statement of the so-called representatives of the opposition."

The council put off additional debate until next Tuesday. Most diplomats believe it will merely take note of statements made, and wind up debate without taking any action on the Cuban complaint.

Only the Soviet Union has supported Cuba in its charges before the council. The United States denied them at the opening meeting on Wednesday.

As to Cuba's allegations that the United States fleet was sent to the Caribbean to establish a precedent for later action against Cuba, Sanchez asserted: "If Cuba is afraid of anything let her prove it."

U.S. Plane Crash Toll Rises To 6

WHITEHORSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Searchers Friday found evidence that six men instead of five died in the crash near here Thursday of an air force cargo plane bound for Houston, Tex., with 10 Air Force reservists aboard.

Three survived the crash and two had been reported missing. The search was narrowed to one when remains of a fourth body were found in the wreckage of the plane, a C-119 "flying boxcar" based at Ellington Air Force Base, Tex., the Air Force said. Two bodies earlier were found on the ground near the wreckage.

Searchers continued to scan an area of 64 square miles south of here for the missing man. An Alaska Air Command spokesman said the search was being conducted in a "very mountainous and heavily wooded area about eight miles square."

Weather was reported clear but cold with temperatures in the sub zero range.

Eight military and civilian aircraft continued the search for the missing man, identified unofficially as M. Sgt. Roger J. Forstner, 46, Houston.

The C-119 took off from Whitehorse, following another flying boxcar only minutes before the crash. Both were to have landed at McChord Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash., before continuing to Ellington.

The planes and crewmen were returning home after participating in Operation King Crab II, a joint armed forces maneuver held on Kodiak Island last week. The entire unit of the 44th Troop Carrier Wing reserve from Ellington came to take part in the exercises.

The bodies found outside the wreckage were identified as those of Airman 1-C William J. Murphy, 25, Houston, a city policeman in civilian life, and Airman 1-C David L. Paul, 38, League City, Tex., a civilian mechanic at Ellington.

U.S. Speeds Up Program On Shelters

Protection Due To Be Ready For 50 Million Soon

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)

Civil defense officials told President Kennedy Friday that a federal program for fallout shelters to protect some 50 million Americans has been speeded up by six months and will be completed by next June.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger reported the development to newsmen after Kennedy worked through much of the day with his chief military, civil defense and foreign trade advisers on policy planning in those three vital areas.

OFFERS DETAILS

Salinger declined to offer details on the forthcoming defense budget or future administration proposals to maintain America's world trade position. But on civil defense, Salinger offered a few specifics.

He said Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara had reported to the President "on the status of the identifying, locating and stocking of shelter areas for some 50 million Americans" under some $200 million already provided by Congress.

"This was to have been completed by December, 1962," Salinger said, "but progress has been at a very rapid rate and it will finish six months ahead of schedule by June of 1962."

Amplifying on the accelerated program of mass community shelters, Salinger said that the 50 million Americans affected are for the most part residents of urban areas. He did not say where these were, but he said the shelter locations to some extent were in large office buildings, schools and similar places.

JES' Ramblin'

Complete

Reports Friday indicated that overlay work on DeSard Street in downtown Monroe which has kept parking off the main stem for the past two weekends is now completed.

All that is left to do is paint markings on the street showing certain special parking areas, loading zones and things of that nature. This work has not been contracted and is expected to be done this Sunday by city workmen.

It should not entail a great deal of traffic stoppage, however, and DeSard will be blocked off in sections of only a couple of blocks at a time. The work should be finished before noon.

DOUBLE-A PLAYOFF

Neville Routs Jesuit, 32-12

By RICK BRYAN
Morning World Sports Editor

STATE FAIR STADIUM, SHREVEPORT — Neville spotted Jesuit an early six-point lead, then blazed back with its lightning-fast backs to completely demolish Jesuit's Blue Flyers, 32 to 12, and win the north Louisiana Class AA championship before some 8,000 fans here last night.

The Tigers tied the game 6-6 on the kickoff following the Jesuit TD, then scored twice more in the second period for a 14-6 half-time lead. They raced through the next two periods pushing the score to 32-6 before Jesuit could add its second touchdown.

Tiger halfback Mike Wilson, Tigers' defense clamped up like a vise, and Jesuit did not make of subbing for injured Robert Payne, tallied on electrifying runs of 88 and 60 yards.

Two more TDs, one on a 60-yard romp, and young Don Brant, who did a great running job, got the other score.

Neville drove 84 and 38 yards or two of its touchdowns.

BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

'Wire Tap' Data Swap Is Offered

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher Jr. Friday offered to swap with U. S. Atty. M. Hepburn Many in New Orleans what he called confidential information about the East Baton Rouge Parish district attorney.

In a news conference, made public the letter containing the offer.

It was sent to Many in New Orleans, where a federal grand jury has been investigating alleged wire tapping in this area by segregationists.

OUT OF TOWN
In New Orleans, Many was reported out of town until Monday. His secretary said, "I have not seen such a letter."

Both the U. S. attorney and Pitcher are awaiting the decision of U. S. Dist. Judge E. Gordon West here, on Pitcher's motion to quash a federal subpoena seeking the appearance of the district attorney and his records.

The court has promised to rule "rather soon," after a court hearing here last Monday. Many, in the court hearing on Pitcher's quash motion, said the government could show the district attorney has been in a room where segregationist wire tappers played their recordings.

The grand jury at New Orleans is investigating allegations that telephones of two Baton Rouge clergymen were tapped after they and 51 other clergymen signed a statement saying segregation was "contrary to the divine law of love."

In his letter to Many, Pitcher offered to present "for your examination any and all confidential information."

Solon Says Boards Are Too Costly

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Rep. Frank Fulco of Caddo Parish said Friday the state's blue ribbon boards are costing the taxpayers too much money and are usurping the powers of the legislature.

He said he planned to introduce a constitutional amendment in the legislature next year calling for their abolition.

The boards he wants to eliminate are the Highway, Hospital, Public Welfare, Institutions and Wildlife and Fisheries.

"These boards have taken away from the legislature powers and responsibilities delegated to the legislature as direct representatives of the people. The power has been transferred to the executive branch of the government by virtue of the appointments to the board made by the governor," Fulco said.

In assailing the cost of keeping the boards, he declared "contrary to the intent of the law, some members of these boards have drawn per diem amounting to as much as $10,000-$12,000 annually. This expense has become so great that it has drawn the dissatisfaction of legislators and taxpayers."

Fulco's bill to abolish the blue ribbon boards will require two-thirds approval of both houses and would then be passed on to the voters as a constitutional amendment next November.

U.N. Troops Use Okayed In Katanga

Council Demands All Secessionist Activities End

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Security Council laid down a new mandate Friday night for U. N. action against the Congo's secessionist Katanga Province, but only after two Soviet vetoes had killed U. S. proposals for broader U. N. authority.

The council demanded that all secessionist activities in Katanga "cease forthwith" and authorized acting Secretary-General U. Thant to use force if necessary to remove the foreign mercenaries that are said to be the chief proponent of the 16-month-old secession. Its vote was 9-0 for a resolution in those terms introduced by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic. Britain and France abstained.

GIVES PLEDGE
Immediately after U. Thant pledged he would do his best to carry out fully all resolutions of the General Assembly and Security Council—including the one just adopted—to restore order in the Congo.

He appealed to U. N. member countries, particularly the Africans, for more troops to reinforce the U. N. Congo force.

The Soviet Union used its veto against U. S. amendments to three-nation resolution to have the council deprecate "all armed action" against the Congolese central government and to authorize the secretary-general to help that government reorganize and retrain its army "for the tasks which confront it."

These amendments might have been interpreted to as empowering the U. N. force in the Congo to act against any new rebellion by the Congolese leftist, Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga. The vote on each was 9-1 with France abstaining.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin asserted that he wielded his negative votes simply to prevent the U. S. proposals from distracting the United Nations from the problem of wiping out the secession of provincial President Moise Tshombe's Katanga.

A third U. S. amendment also failed. It would have authorized the secretary-general "to remove"

Pre-Christmas Pilgrimage To Aid Orphans

MILROY, Ind. (AP) — Eight small farm trucks laden with food and clothing were on an annual pre-Christmas pilgrimage Friday to an orphanage in the hills of Virginia.

With them went 20 residents of this and other nearby communities. The project started 14 years ago when word reached here about the near-deserted Grundy Mountain mission school in southwest Virginia.

The first year, the Rev. Loren Hold, Earl Priest, a farmer, and Dale Gates, a body shop operator, took the children some used clothing and toys.

The project mushroomed with out benefit of formal organization. Residents of this eastern Indiana community of 800, and now those of adjoining areas—bake cookies, collect clothing and gather other treats, piled at Gates' shop.

This year the 324 orphans at the Grundy school will receive new shoes and socks among some 1,000 pounds of used clothing, as well as radios and record players.

1,606 MILES AN HOUR

Navy Jet Chalks Up Speed Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Navy jet fighter has streaked through the air at an average of more than 1,606 miles an hour — 2 1/2 times the speed of sound — to set a new world's speed record, the Navy said Friday.

The F-4H Phantom II jet averaged 1,606.342 miles an hour faster than the existing mark held by the Air Force.

The record-breaking flight was flown by Lt. Col. Robert B. Robinson of Orange, Calif., over Edwards Air Force Base, near Los Angeles.

The announcement, issued as a preliminary to the commissioning Saturday of the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, said Col. Robinson's flight established the Phantom II as "the fastest jet aircraft in the world."

The previous record, 1,325.96 miles per hour, was set Feb. 15, 1959, by Maj. Joseph W. Rogers in an Air Force F-106 fighter.

Robinson will receive the Distinguished Flying Cross from Navy Secretary John B. Connally at the commissioning of the Enterprise at Newport News, Va. His plane will be based on the Enterprise.

The Navy said Robinson reached a maximum speed of more than 1,650 miles an hour in flying twice as fast as a course of 16 kilometers. The jet was at an altitude of 45,000 feet, and its speed was 2 1/2 times that of sound.

Step Hinted Unless State Officers Act

NEW ORLEANS (AP)

The Metropolitan Crime Commission of New Orleans, Inc., threatened Friday to seek federal help if state and local agencies continued their "refusal to enforce Louisiana's criminal statutes against the professional law violators."

In a letter to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, managing director Aaron M. Kohn said "commercialized gambling and prostitution are at a new high level of activity" in neighboring Jefferson Parish.

REQUEST ACTION

The letter asked Davis "to instruct the Louisiana State Police to investigate, arrest and institute prosecution against the numerous career racketeers and their employees who form the fabric of widespread organized crime in Jefferson Parish."

"It would be regrettable," the letter concluded, "if responsible citizens of our state are forced to the conclusion that law and order can be achieved only through recourse to federal authority."

Kohn's letter said that "within the past three weeks there has been a return to, and expansion of, the operations of various gambling casinos and houses of prostitution in the Parish of Jefferson." It listed seven alleged parish gambling houses and said it had available the addresses of parish motels used for prostitution.

Col. Murphy J. Roden, Louisiana public safety director, said in Baton Rouge Friday if local law enforcement breaks down where organized vice exists, state police will be directed to act.

As Davis was unavailable for comment Roden answered Kohn. State police have been checking

Dean Says U.S. Won't Stop Tests

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chief U.S. nuclear negotiator Arthur H. Dean said Friday night the United States "absolutely" would stage new nuclear tests during the renewed Geneva test ban negotiations with Russia.

Dean, speaking to a news conference on the eve of his departure for the new three-power nuclear talks, said it was up to President Kennedy whether the new tests would include bursts in the atmosphere. But he stressed, "we reserve complete freedom of action."

"Our slogan will be test and talk," he said. "We absolutely will have tests while the talks are going on."

Earlier Friday at the United Nations, Dean had disclosed that Russia's test series included "about 50" nuclear tests in the atmosphere since Sept. 1 — 20 more than previously reported. He said the largest test, according to most recent scientific data, was known to have yielded the force of 58 million tons of TNT. Dean's disclosure about U. S. testing plans came at a later press conference.

Dean also indicated the United States was going back to the talks with Britain and the Soviet Union with no intention to submit new compromise proposals that would alter the treaty already proposed by the west.

RESUME SOVIET TIES

Brazil Leaders Denounce Action

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Conservative congressional leaders, angered at Brazil's renewal of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, voted Friday to sponsor a motion of censure against Foreign Minister Francisco Santiago Dantas.

The action was approved 127 in a caucus of 19 top men of a conservative parliamentary organization called the Democratic Action Group, which claims support from 155 of the Chamber of Deputies' 328 members. They said they will present the motion as soon as they get the necessary 50 signatures to take it to the floor.

"In the delicate situation of the country," the conservative leaders said, "it was a grave error to re-establish diplomatic relations with a nation maintained under the dominance of a violent and aggressive ideology which in Latin America is fomenting social and political agitation."

They said the Soviet Union seeks to "usurp political power from the hands of the people to benefit an astute minority." The foreign minister could not be reached for comment.

Dantas notified Congress Thursday he had signed the official document, as had Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Critics complained at his handling of the nation as an "accomplished fact," accusing him in effect of pulling a fast one.

A hands-off attitude was taken by a U.S. State Department official in Washington, which renewed diplomatic ties with Moscow in the first days of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

"The official U.S. position seemed to be: 'It's none of our business, although we don't go around encouraging countries to establish relations with Russia.' Brazil and Cuba were the only two Latin-American nations to favor each of two nuclear prohibition measures endorsed by the U.N. General Assembly in New York Friday over objections by the Western Big Three."

Brazil's Chamber of Deputies is controlled by a coalition of center and right-of-center parties. A similar coalition controls the 63-seat Senate. Several key leaders of the coalition previously announced support for a resumption of relations with the Soviet Union.

Dantas had been killed to go before Congress Thursday with a statement on the status of talks with the Soviet Union about relations. Instead, anti-Communist deputies almost shouted him down, he announced the resumption of relations after a 14-year break.

Reliable sources in Brasilia, the capital, said he even caught the Cabinet of Premier Tancredino Neves by surprise. At least one minister said he had believed that the question of renewing relations still was under study.

Dantas, an expert in international law and classified as a moderate, sought to assure Congress that renewal of relations with the Kremlin was being carried out with strict precautions.

He said Soviet diplomats who come to Brazil will be subject to the same types of restrictions imposed on Brazilian diplomats in Moscow.

The move was viewed by some as apparently intended to demonstrate Brazilian freedom from U.S. domination. Those favoring the resumption said it was the realistic thing to do. They claimed there will be benefits for Brazilian trade.

An anti-Communist leader, Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara, said, "The government has resolved a problem for Russia and created one for Brazil."

Both Dominican delegates accused Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government of trying to incite bloodshed in their country by inflammatory propaganda broadcasts.

Sanchez said the council was confronted by a "comic case" in which Cuba sought to portray itself as the sole representative of the Dominican people. He said the trouble is that "Cuba is trying to attain here what it cannot with its radio broadcasts."

Sanchez introduced Bonilla Atlas as a member of the Dominican opposition Union Civica. The alternate delegate said he was speaking as a representative of a government which he had opposed until Thursday. He said Balaguer had invited the opposition to join in setting up a democratic regime.

IN SAIPAN GRAVE

Aviatrix's Remains Are Believed Found

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bones and teeth found in a shallow jungle grave on Saipan were being flown to San Francisco Friday to ascertain whether they may be those of Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan.

Miss Earhart, called "Lady Lindy" for her daring flights, and Noonan vanished July 2, 1937, while crossing the Pacific on a world flight.

Fred Goerner, 36, a newsman for radio station KCBS, told a news conference Friday he found a grave containing bones and 37 human teeth.

"We are not sure these are the remains of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan," Goerner said.

"But Dr. Theodore D. McCown, professor of anthropology at the University of California at Berkeley has agreed to study them."

Goerner said information which led him to the jungle grave came from Thomas E. Devine, a businessman of West Haven, Conn.

Goerner said he learned of Navy messages concerning Miss Earhart's flight which never had been made public.

Cmdr. Paul Bridwell, Saipan's naval commandant, expressed a theory that Miss Earhart and Noonan were forced down in the Marshalls, then taken to Saipan where they were imprisoned.

Devine was a U.S. soldier with a post office unit on Saipan in 1944-45, and had trudged over the island.

Devine said a native woman asked if he was searching for a grave, and then the shallow burial place was pointed out to him. He said he did not connect the grave with the disappearance of the fliers until years later.

Goerner said an expedition he headed came upon the burial site Sept. 21.

"Excavating in the vicinity where the war-destroyed city of Garapan once was," Goerner said, "we found a shallow, unmarked grave containing the remains of a man and woman."

"From teeth uncovered, doctors indicated they were Caucasians and quite possibly those of Miss Earhart and Noonan."

"But we are not sure these are the remains."

Dr. McCown agreed to study the bones on condition he not be given any descriptions of Miss Earhart or Noonan.

Goerner said Bridwell told him "I think they went down to the

West Berlin Mayor Gets Reassurance

BERLIN (UPI)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay Friday assured West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt that the United States surrendered none of its access rights by handing over to the Russians an East German stowaway aboard an American military train.

Some Germans are highly critical of the United States action, Thursday. Others defended it as necessary to avoid giving the Russians a pretext to halt all Allied traffic to Berlin.

Col. A. V. Solovye, the Soviet Berlin commandant, called Friday at his own request on Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. Berlin commandant. It was believed he delivered a Soviet protest on the train incident but Allied authorities declined comment.

East Germans continued to strengthen the wall between East and West Berlin, but refugees still braved death to escape communism.

A young mother crept through the barbed-wire barricades, cradling her 3-month-old baby in her arms. Her greatest fear, she told West Berlin police, was that the baby might cry and draw attention of the Communist guards. But the baby remained silent and the woman crossed safely.

Clay, just returned from Washington and the talks between President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, met for 65 minutes with Brandt to discuss the recent developments.

City officials said Clay told Brandt that the Adenauer-Kennedy talks improved the outlook for the city's Western sectors. There was no elaboration.

Clay also told Brandt that the United States had no alternative but to surrender the East German who boarded the American train while in Communist territory between West Berlin and West Germany.

He said that no persons may board or leave official American trains during the run under the four-power postwar agreements.

The East Germans identified the stowaway as Siegfried Pupp, and said he was wanted for burglary.

Robert Kennedy To Visit Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife will visit Berlin in February in another demonstration of U.S. concern for the red-encircled city, an aide announced Friday.

The President's brother also may visit the West German capital of Bonn, diplomatic sources said. But no decision on such a stop has been made.

President Kennedy discussed his brother's Berlin trip last week during talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Kennedy will be guests in West Berlin of Mayor Willy Brandt. Kennedy will deliver the Ernst Reuter Memorial lecture at the University of Berlin on Feb. 24, the Justice Department aide said.

There has been speculation that the attorney general might visit Russia and the Middle East next year. He conferred last week with Charles E. Bohlen, State Department Russian expert. But there was no official word on a possible extension of the Berlin visit.

REGAINING STRENGTH

Terry Jo To Leave Hospital In Week

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Terry Jo Duperrault probably will leave the hospital next week if she has thrown off the effects of her ordeal at sea.

"We don't intend to send her home on a stretcher," her attorney, Richard Ralph, said Friday. "It's all a case of her regaining her strength."

Terry Jo, 11, a Green Bay, Wis. girl, is the sole survivor of seven who put to sea on the ketch Blue Belle for a cruise in the Bahamas.

The vessel sank Nov. 12, carrying to the bottom her parents, Dr. Arthur Duperrault, 49, a Green Bay optometrist; his wife Jean, 38, a son, Brian, 14, and Mrs. Julian Harvey, 34, wife of the skipper.

The body of another daughter, Renee, 7, was found in a lifeboat with Harvey when he was picked up by a tanker.

Harvey, 44, killed himself in a Miami motel room less than 24 hours after hearing that Terry Jo also had been found alive. She was taken from a life raft by the crew of the freighter Captain Theo after tossing for 3½ days in the Atlantic.

Harvey told the Coast Guard that a squall broke the masts of the Blue Belle and knocked a hole in her hull. He said all on board jumped into the sea when fire broke out. Terry Jo said the masts did not break, she saw no fire and smelled no smoke but did see her mother and brother lying motionless on a bloody deck.

The Coast Guard has not announced the completion of an inquiry.

Ralph said he assumes Terry Jo realizes her parents are dead but, to his knowledge, nobody has asked her directly.

"There has been no formal discussion with her on that matter," Ralph said.

Meanwhile, at Green Bay, memorial services for the other four members of the ill-fated family

Man Working Is Stricken

FERRIDAY (Special) — Corner Dr. Herman Gibson said Friday a man died of a rupture while chopping wood at his home near Lake Concordia just outside Ferriday about 8 p.m. Thursday.

The body of Monroe Locke, who Gibson described as "an elderly man" was discovered by a neighbor Friday morning. The neighbor called police.

Mr. Locke lived alone. Dr. Gibson said Locke was apparently chopping wood and suffered a ruptured aneurysm.

He is survived by a brother who lives in El Dorado, Ark. Youngs Funeral Home of Ferriday is in charge of arrangements.

Kennedy Stopper

McCormack, As House Speaker, Won't Aid President's Plans

Kennedys And Business

Attorney General Robert Kennedy's recent, and, we must say, surprising statements that, "I am a friend of business and industry," undoubtedly indicate some sort of new understanding between President John F. Kennedy and his brother.

Sometimes it is difficult to decide whether President Kennedy or Robert does the deciding. The president pays a great deal of attention to what his brother says. Not long ago, Robert asked that he be given authority to inspect all the other government departments in his capacity as chief of the department of justice. There never seemed to be a concrete answer on that but a subsequent cartoon showed Robert acting as a choir director, with all other department heads as members of the choir.

When Robert announced that he was a friend of business and industry it doubtless surprised the big labor moguls as much as it did the chiefs of business and industry. If his statement was true, he seemed to be headed in a new direction.

Because of an apparent, if not real, shift in the attitude of a member of the Kennedy family, President Kennedy's appearance before the Congress of American Industry in New York's Waldorf Astoria hotel December 6 will be watched with more than ordinary interest. Robert Kennedy's statement of friendship seemed to be a bid for bringing business and industry behind the administration program. How far President Kennedy will go along the same line is problematical but his statements will be watched closely.

An idea of the importance of the New York meeting can be obtained from the size and standing of the Louisiana delegation which is scheduled to attend.

Leading the Louisiana group will be R. D. Poindexter, 1962 regional vice-president of the National Manufacturers Association and president of the Superior Iron Works and Supply Company in Shreveport. Other Shreveporters are W. E. Wilson, director of the United Gas Pipe Line Co., and Paul L. Gun, director of employ relations of the Southwestern Electric Power Co.

Among others will be Q. T. Hardtner of Urania, president of the Urania Lumber Co. and 1962 N.A. M. director from Louisiana; Herbert Jahneke of New Orleans, 1962 director from Louisiana, vice-president of Jahneke Service, Inc., and Paul F. Jahneke, board chairman of Jahneke Service; and Wilson H. Williams of Baton Rouge, president of Williams Drilling Co.

Many of the business executives will be accompanied by their wives.

The theme of the congress has been entitled, "A Blueprint for American Strategy," in the struggle against militant world communism.

If President Kennedy is appearing before the meeting in the hope of trying to induce business leaders to give up a part of free enterprise in the pretense that it will help the effort against communism it will indicate that he is still bent on turning this country as far toward socialism as possible.

If he should, by any chance, show any real interest in giving boost it will be a change of attitude that will draw mighty support from the people of this country, most of whom are now convinced that socialism is not the answer either to our problem of defending ourselves against communism or of building a stronger, more stalwart and more independent nation.

Fallout Shelter Aid Ready

Uncle Sam Prepared To Assist Financially, With Insured Loan, Those Meeting Official Standards

If you are thinking of building a fallout shelter, Uncle Sam is ready to help you financially. You can get a government-insured loan for that purpose.

The Federal Housing Administration is prepared to insure mortgages for fallout shelters for both new and old houses — provided the shelters meet official standards.

FHA is drafting a new set of such specifications. Pending their completion, the standards formulated by the office of civil defense are being used for loan guarantee purposes.

Regular FHA interest rates will apply to shelter loans.

No limit has been set on such insured mortgages. However, they must be "reasonable," that is, proportionate to the value of the house. For example, FHA will not approve a $5,000 shelter loan for an $18,000 house. Some White House advisers favored a special drive to stimulate shelter building.

They are urging a speech by President Kennedy on the matter. The subject has been discussed at several cabinet meetings, but the president is still considering it. He is apparently cool to the address idea; has indicated he favors a special message to Congress when it convenes in January.

Whether he does that or not, he definitely plans to include fallout shelters in his State of the Union message.

EXTRAORDINARY SCHEME—A high official of the Kennedy administration is seriously proposing putting the Strategic Air Command under NATO, with final authority over it in the hands of the United Nations.

That's the startling plan advocated by Defense Undersecretary Paul Nitze at a recent national strategy seminar in California.

The former New York banker and director of the state department's policy planning staff in the Truman administration is now in charge of international affairs for the Pentagon. In this key position, he wields much influence in military state department and White House councils.

Nitze's backstage Strategic Air Command proposal is vigorously opposed by the joint chiefs of staff.

They contend SAC is the principal nuclear striking force of the U.S. and must be kept wholly under U.S. control. To diminish this power in any way, the joint chiefs hold, would jeopardize the security of the country.

Behind Nitze's controversial plan is an increasingly urgent NATO problem — to provide the alliance with a nuclear striking force of its own.

Chancellor Adenauer urged this in his talks with President Kennedy. And that subject is high on the agenda of the NATO foreign ministers conference in Paris next month.

Various proposals have been offered to deal with this dilemma. Nitze's is the most far-reaching. Also the most explosive.

The Senate Preparedness Committee, probing the muzzling of military officers, is evincing great interest in the extraordinary proposition, and has obtained a transcript of his remarks at the unpublicized strategy seminar. It was held under the auspices of the Sixth U. S. Army, Western Sea Frontier and Fourth Air Force.

There is every indication the Senate probers, headed by Senator John Stennis, D. Miss., will question Nitze about his unusual views.

"I propose that we multilateralize the command of our retaliatory system by making SAC a NATO command. We inform the United Nations that NATO will turn over ultimate power of decision on the use of these systems to the General Assembly of the United Nations subject to the following conditions:

"(1) That we and our allies will assume continuing responsibility for manning, maintaining and improving these systems. (2) That UN inspectors would be invited to inspect and satisfy themselves that these are the only nuclear systems we are maintaining. (3) That a UN order to use them will be honored only in the event some nation has initiated the use of nuclear weapons other than over its own territory in self-defense against military aggression.

"As part of the plan, the Soviet Union would be invited to take reciprocal action. In particular, it would be hoped that the USSR would give convincing demonstration that it, too, was prepared to restrict its preparations to a deterrent nuclear counter-force.

"It would be made clear that we and our NATO allies reserve the unilateral right to modify or terminate the plan. New technological developments or evidence that the USSR was continuing to strive for an overwhelming nuclear capability might well cause us to judge some new approach more conducive to the world's and our security."

In Nitze's talk, he also advocated developing what he called "purely retaliatory systems," as follows:

"We should concentrate on building a variety of secure, purely retaliatory systems, preferably those exploiting mobility and concealment (example: the intercontinental ballistic Minuteman missile), and located away from population centers. These retaliatory systems should be in the air, under the sea and in the desert. "When we have such a mix of relatively secure systems, we will be able to scrap the fixed base (Atlas and Titan) vulnerable systems."

Finland's 'No Choice'

Russia has called on Finland to do something about the dangerous world situation, particularly in the Baltic. Finland has no stomach for any such shenanigans as Russia may propose but, under the 1948 "mutual assistance and friendship pact," has "no choice."

It will be remembered that this pact followed a minor war between Russia and Finland. Finland wanted nothing more than its own independence and to be let alone and that is all it wants now but Russia insists on prodding that country unmercifully at times.

The Soviets looked on the war between Finland and Russia as a sort of police action but for some time the Finns were killing some 20 Russians for every man they lost. Even at that rate, however, the Russians could have outlasted them and when it looked as if the Soviet Union was really ready to crack down Finland submitted and later signed the "mutual assistance and friendship agreement."

Although the United States government never seemed to appreciate it much—whereas the people of this country did—Finland was one of the few countries which took the trouble to pay back loans made to it by the American government. For many years, Finland has been willing to be an honorable, upright and self-supporting nation.

In doing this, however, it has faced a difficult situation. For one thing, although Russia forced the war on Finland, it made that country pay tremendous war reparations and this was, for many years, a heavy drain on Finland's economy. Despite this, however, it has paid its way out and would be a prosperous country if let alone.

Responding to a Russian request, Finland has proposed that President Urho Kekkonen fly to Moscow personally to confer with Premier Nikita Khrushchev on Soviet allegations that West Germany threatened peace in the Baltic area.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Kuznetsov called in Finnish Ambassador Eero Wuori and asked that Finland send a delegation to Moscow as quickly as possible. Prime Minister Martti Miettunen believed the threat of war in the said Kuznetsov told him Russia believed the threat of war in the Baltic had increased since the October 30 note called on the Finns to implement their friendship agreement.

The decision to send President Kekkonen to Moscow was taken in an emergency cabinet meeting. Kekkonen agreed to go and then the end of moose-hunting in an indication that the situation was not as grave as first feared.

Diplomatic observers had said before the cabinet meeting that there was a foregone conclusion the 1948 agreement left them no choice.

It is also a foregone conclusion that the Finnish delegation will not relish the task. Undoubtedly, Russia will use the Finns for some sort of propaganda purpose and will try to make them the implements of whatever dirty work is contemplated in the Baltic area.

Genoa is the oldest permanent white settlement in Nevada. It was the capital of Nevada territory until 1861 when it was succeeded by Carson City, the present capital.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Serum Glutamic

Diagnostic Test Used in Determining Various Conditions

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I was recently given a "serum glutamic oxaloacetic transaminase" treatment. Will you discuss it? Mrs. A.

COMMENT: The common abbreviation for this is SGOT to prevent our stumbling over this tongue-twister. It isn't a treatment, Mrs. A. It is a diagnostic test used in determining the presence of such conditions as liver disease and infarction of the heart muscle following coronary thrombosis.

"SHOTS" Dear Dr. Steincrohn: In a recent column you ask when will people stop using the expression "shots"? Well, I learned it from my own doctor. He gave me what he called B12 shots. Told me to come for a shot once a week. Asked me how I felt after I'd taken a half-dozen shots. All I heard was shots-shots-shots.

So please don't scold us patients. In the end we are the ones who suffer from careless terminology on the part of too many doctors—Mrs. B.

COMMENT: You're so right. But I wasn't scolding — just asking. It's the doctors who really deserve the scolding. Therefore, I hereby scold them. (Can you just picture them hiding their heads in shame?)

NOSE COLD FOR A YEAR

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I've had a nose cold for a year and I can't get rid of it. I've tried practically everything recommended for colds. What would you say is the best thing to do for a cold like mine? — Mrs. M.

COMMENT: I'll repeat what I've mentioned many times: whenever a cold hangs on for many months without improvement always consider the possibility of allergy. A visit or two to the doctor might have saved you many dollars thrown away on needless pills and potions.

READERS TRY TO HELP

You'd be surprised how sympathetic readers are for the troubles of others. They try to help by giving advice, writing letters of sympathy, and even enclosing contributions (which I return to the sender).

Often the advice is practical and good. Sometimes it is questionable. Which is another way of saying, it is sometimes whimsical and ludicrous. Consider today's letter. It is a "winkle cure." Rather than undergo this well-meant, rigorous schedule, I'll keep my wrinkles to myself, thank you.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I read the letter from Mrs. R. of New York. I am sending a list of facial exercises which will help more to eradicate wrinkles than anything else. They must be done every day. All I can say is that I haven't any wrinkles although many younger women have. Here are the exercises:

1. Put cold cream on the face first. Sit in front of mirror. Fill the cheeks with air and blow them out. While they are blown up, chew vigorously. Do this 10 times.

2. Sit in front of mirror. Twist mouth to right side. Pull right corner of mouth upward toward right ear as far as you can. Hold position while you count to 15. Slowly relax. Do the same with left corner of mouth.

3. Lift all muscles of the face upward raising the muscles of forehead as well as those of the face. Do not frown while doing this but hold this position and count 15. Relax slowly and repeat exercise.

4. For sagging chin line put head back, leaning back as far as possible and chew 10 or 20 times while holding this position. Do this several times. Important: always do these facial exercises with cold cream on the face. — Mrs. W.

What I can't understand are the chewing exercises. Chew what? And how about this one: "Fill the cheeks with air and blow them out. While they are blown up, chew vigorously." Come now, Mrs. W. 'fess up. You're really trying to help us get rid of wrinkles by making us smile to exercise our facial muscles.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Be a Happy Hypochondriac," will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c/o this newspaper.

WASHINGTON SHORTS

DEMOCRAT HOPES (UPI) — Democrats are heartened at the record registration of voters in New York City — 3,511,240. Think it gives them a chance to unseat Governor Rockefeller next year, if they can find an attractive candidate. Prescription calls for an up-stater and a Protestant. Representative Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady, a Presbyterian, has been most discussed. Stratton, who is likely to be gerrymandered out of his Congress seat by the Republican legislature, hasn't sparked much enthusiasm among party leaders and workers.

WASHINGTON — The almost certain election of Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) as Speaker of the House of Representatives may strike a severe blow at Kennedy Administration hopes of pushing its legislative program through a rebellious Congress next year.

President Kennedy's coolness toward the selection of McCormack for the third highest office in the land is no secret. And for the House itself, the gaudy 66-year-old Boston Democrat will be a grudging choice.

Nevertheless, McCormack appears to have the election in the bag. He is about to collect on political debts that have been piling up for 21 years, a period he served as majority leader and chief lieutenant to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Even if the President threw his prestige on the line and went all-out to engineer McCormack's defeat, it is extremely doubtful that he would succeed.

Why the reluctance to elevate McCormack, a dedicated Democrat of long standing, to the Speakership?

There are three reasons.

First, the Administration suspects and has ample evidence that McCormack is something less than unreservedly dedicated to the New Frontier's legislative program.

Second, he has long been at odds with Kennedy on the Massachusetts political scene.

Third, McCormack is a Catholic. At first glance, the last reason may appear fantastic. Yet President Kennedy, himself a devout Catholic, sincerely believes the selection of a member of his own faith for the Speakership would be a political mistake.

He and other members of his Administration fear McCormack's election may again fan the religious issue which Kennedy had to fight off constantly during the 1960 campaign.

The Democratic leader of the senate, Mike Mansfield of Montana, is a Catholic. This, if McCormack is named Speaker, the White House, the Senate and the House all will have Catholic in the driver's seat.

"From a political standpoint it looks like we're turning the country over to the Catholics and that is the very image the President has tried hard to avoid," a high Administration source commented. "It's not good from our standpoint but I don't think there is a thing that can be done about it."

Indirectly, McCormack's faith is related to his opposition to at least one important phase of the New Frontier legislative program — the school aid bill.

Strong advocates for expanding federal aid to education blamed the Catholic church for the defeat of the legislation in the last session. McCormack gave the bill no help at all, holding out instead for legislation that would funnel federal funds to parochial schools.

And it was a Catholic, Rep. James J. Delaney (D-N. Y.) who provided the vote that killed the big school aid bill in the House Rules Committee.

McCormack has predicted the bill will be in trouble again next year unless provisions are made to include private and parochial schools.

Administration officials feel that McCormack, as house majority leader, did not provide sufficient leadership in the fight on appropriations for foreign aid in the last session.

McCormack also is reported to take a dim view toward passage of legislation adding medical care for the aged to the social security system. This is another must bill in the Kennedy legislative program through Congress. This is especially true at a time when the House is feeling its oats for the first time in many years.

The antics of the House during the closing days of the last session, while Speaker Rayburn was away ill, showed it was fast becoming an unwieldy, leaderless body. McCormack was handed the gavel and named Acting Speaker during Mr. Sam's absence. But he soon found he did not command the loyalty and power that Speaker Rayburn had.

Some observers blamed McCormack for making a deal with opponents of foreign aid when he might have defeated them. And when he tried to call up the postal rate increase bill under the so-called "gag" rule, he was soundly clobbered as the session ground toward a halt.

McCormack's critics were quick to charge that he lacked the leadership qualities needed as Speaker. Rayburn's eventual successor. However, an objective would be quick to point out that McCormack, as "acting" speaker, by no means had the power and prestige that go with the Speakership when the man has been elected to that office.

In the waning days of the session the House was not yet ready to turn over any real power to McCormack as long as Speaker Rayburn was alive and still held the office.

At this point, however, there seemed little doubt but that an overwhelming majority of House Democrats, liberals and conservatives, can unite to elect McCormack when the session opens in January.

To deny him the office after he had been elected temporary Speaker would be to cast a vote of no confidence against the Democratic party's majority leader for 21 years.

In addition, McCormack's performance during the final weeks of the last session may well have strengthened him with conservative elements whose votes he will need. Foreign aid is not popular with the conservatives and he came to their rescue last September.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

'Common Sense'

Publication Devoted To Attacking Jews Careless Of Facts

"Common Sense" is a publication which devotes itself to anti-Jewish propaganda and is often careless as to the facts. Mixing opinion with facts, "Common Sense," in some matters, becomes startlingly confused.

At this moment, I refer to a paragraph concerning the meeting between Senator Joe McCarthy and Bernard Baruch. "Common Sense" says of this:

"Same when Senator Joseph McCarthy left Bernard Baruch's apartment in New York and went to the Dutch Treat Club to speak. The senator had refused to ease up on the 38 Communist Jews uncovered at Fort Monmouth in New Jersey. Baruch was angry because these Jews were from his pet college. At 2 p.m. Sen. Ralph Flanders stood on the Senate floor and attacked Senator McCarthy. That was the clue for nationwide attacks. Baruch had given the signal to destroy McCarthy."

During most of this conversation only four persons were present, namely, Bernard Baruch, Joe McCarthy and myself, later Roy Cohn joined us. Of those who were present, McCarthy died.

Now, let us deal with this paragraph fact by fact:

1. The meeting did not occur in Baruch's apartment. It took place in a hotel suite which was suitably located for all persons concerned.

2. Baruch did not ask any favors of McCarthy. Rather, he denounced the American Communists and praised McCarthy for the work he was doing.

3. He warned McCarthy that elements existed inside and outside government who would do anything possible to destroy McCarthy and that he had to be careful that he did not walk into the hands of his enemies.

4. The meeting was friendly throughout. There was not one angry word and to that I would be willing to provide an oath. Baruch did not defend the Monmouth traitors or the College of the City of New York, which was not involved.

As only I and Roy Cohn were present at any time during the conversation between these two men, only we can attest to what they said. Neither Cohn nor I told "Common Sense" what transpired. Baruch has not provided such information. McCarthy is dead. Who then gave "Common Sense" this false statement of what occurred? Was it a hotel maid?

Actually the incident is not important nor is "Common Sense" of which most Americans have not heard. But this little publication is being circulated by anti-Semites as authoritative, as having inside information about all sorts of things. Nobody bothers to call its bluff and therefore it is assumed it must be right. And a lie often repeated and never denied is believed as though it were true.

But with regard to this incident, no representative of "Common Sense" was present. I was present during the entire conversation. Joe McCarthy, who cannot defend his own reputation, was never an anti-Semite. In fact, he requested me to arrange a meeting between himself and some officers of the Anti-Defamation League, which I did. The conversation was smooth and pleasant, no one losing his temper. McCarthy was surprised to find that these men were as strongly anti-Communist as he was, although he had heard differently. No representative of "Common Sense" was present at this meeting but I was.

JFK, Staff Consult On Policy Plans

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President Kennedy worked in detail with his chief military, civil defense and foreign trade advisers Friday on policy plans in these three vital areas.

Interrupting a four-day Thanksgiving holiday with his family at their Cape Cod home in Hyannis Port, Kennedy presided over a day-long series of meetings with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and other key officials.

But by 11:15 a.m. EST the group was at work in what is known as "the big house" at the Kennedy "compound"—the home of the President's parents, former ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy.

The President consulted on these important matters:

Foreign trade — Whether, in view of the effect Europe's common market may have on the U.S. economy, to ask Congress next year for greater presidential authority to lower tariffs after the Reciprocal Trade Act expires in mid-1961.

Military spending—A survey of current planning on the defense budget for the 1963 fiscal year which is expected unofficially to reach the $60 billion mark. This fiscal year's military budget is $46.85 billion about $3.9 billion more than former President Eisenhower recommended for the period.

Civil defense—A review of what the Pentagon has done since it took over the fallout shelter program and other responsibilities in this field last August, amid rising controversies over whether too little or too much is being done by the government to protect civilians in case of nuclear attack.

The weekend White House would not tell newsmen about any conclusions reached in the meetings.

SINGER RECOVERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Singer Peggy Lee was reported recovering Friday in Polyclinic Hospital from an attack of virus pneumonia.

A hospital spokesman said the singer was in improved condition and resting comfortably. He said she was no longer in pain and her temperature was "near normal."

Miss Lee was stricken last Saturday night during a night club engagement.

U.S. ASTRONAUTS

Trio In Running For Orbit Ride

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The names are Shepard, Glenn, and Carpenter. History books will immortalize one with that special emphasis reserved for other names like Columbus and Byrd Gagarin.

The chapter devoted to Shepard, Glenn or Carpenter will tell of his exploits as the first American to be rocketed into orbit around earth.

It hasn't happened yet. It probably won't until early next year. But scientists already have begun preparing for that day by picking Alan B. Shepard Jr., John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter as candidates for the nation's first manned orbital flight.

United Press International learned that Mercury man-in-space program have selected the three from a seven-man team of astronauts on the basis of numerous physical and psychological examinations.

Shepard, a slender 38-year-old Navy commander, is the only one with any spaceflight experience. He became America's first spaceman last May 5 when he rode a Redstone rocket on a "sub-orbital" flight 115 miles into the sky.

Mercury scientists plan to send their man three times around earth in 4½ hours. If all goes as planned, he will spend most of that time in weightlessness.

Glenn, a 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel, is the oldest of the astronauts. He has come close to making trips into space twice. But the honor went to Shepard once and to another astronaut, Virgil I. Grissom, on the other occasion.

Glenn was the "back-up" or standby man for both shots. But it was understood the freckle-faced Marine veteran stands a "very good chance" for the first orbital trip.

Sources said the astronaut for that maiden voyage probably would be either Glenn or Shepard, with Carpenter as the "back-up."

best—by whatever slim margin—at this time.

Before America can attempt a manned orbital flight, the Mercury program still has one big hurdle to cross—a three-orbit "rehearsal" flight by a baby chimpanzee.

The chimp shot, slated now for next week, is designed as a full-scale test of the manned orbital mission. The ape will be hurled into orbit by a modified Atlas war rocket, circle the globe three times and then be brought back in a parachute landing of his bell-shaped Mercury capsule about 1,000 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral, if all goes well.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 11-25

FORMER STAGE STAR

Ruth Chatterton Dies At Age Of 68

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — As of a show which she and some tress Ruth Chatterton, 68, died in hospital after days earlier.

The hospital reported Miss Chatterton, whose home was in nearby Redding, had been admitted Tuesday with a cerebral hemorrhage.

Miss Chatterton had been a widow since the death last year of her husband, Barry Thompson.

A family spokesman said private funeral services would be held.

Miss Chatterton began her stage career at the age of 14 on a dare, and then moved on to carve out successful careers on Broadway, in motion pictures and finally as an author.

She made her stage debut in Washington, D.C., in the chorus

Rebel' Show Helps Star's Movie Roles

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Will "The Rebel" rise again? It could happen, says Nick Adams, who played the Confederate veteran for two years on television. But he is in the curious position of not being sure he wants the series to revive.

"The Rebel" had a creditable record. The ratings were generally good—and on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line.

So what shot the Reb down? "It was a combination of circumstances," said Nick. Among them, the sponsor agreed to relinquish the Sunday night time, only to learn another cigarette sponsor was given it; the sponsor pulled out of the network in a huff; the show was shunted to Thursday night, but was bumped for the Steve Allen Show; by that time it was too late to find a time slot on any network.

"Naturally I was disappointed," said earnest young Nick. "But it may work out well for me in the long run. I had two years in TV—enough to get myself established, but not too much so I saturated the market. The movie work I've been getting since then has been much better than I had before the series."

What every actor wants is to make it in pictures, he said. "That's the big time. Now that I'm hitting it pretty good in pictures, I'm not so sure I want to go back to TV."

"After all, I've got a ready-made audience for theaters. The South loves me, and the North doesn't hate me. A picture can make its negative cost back in the South alone. That makes me a pretty good investment."

Silent Film Era To Get New Salute

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Hollywood's "golden years" of the silent film era get a bright new polish next Wednesday when NBC-TV presents an hour long show on film's early days.

Hosted by Gene Kelly, the documentary of early flickers begins with "The Great Train Robbery" of 1907, a film which was to set a style for many of the movie industry's shoot 'em ups of a later generation.

The show opens with one of the memorable scenes in show business history: Al Jolson in a hand-shaking, happy go lucky rendition of "Toot, Toot, Tootsie Goodbye," in an old sound movie clip.

Moments of screen history are recalled in film footage that was long ago consigned to moviedom's history books.

The program is historical and entertaining. Films depicting early day movie pioneers tell the story of how the motion picture industry started in New York and moved west to what was then a little community called Hollywood.

The town occasionally showed its resentment of actors as a bad lot but it was in Hollywood that the infant industry mushroomed into the multi-million-dollar business it is today.

Motion picture production was a lot less complicated in the early part of this century. "Golden Years" shows pioneer film directors, actors and technicians shooting pictures on rooftops in New York's Bronx and scenes in Brooklyn.

The hour-long show has scenes from such old time movies as "Perils of Pauline," "The Gold Rush," "The Birth of a Nation," "The Sheik," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" and the first "Ben Hur."

Stars include names which hark back to another day in Hollywood. Rudolph Valentino, John Barrymore, Buster Keaton, Charlie Chaplin, Greta Garbo, Francis X. Bushman, Theda Bara, Gloria Swanson, Mary Pickford, Tom Mix and Will Rogers.

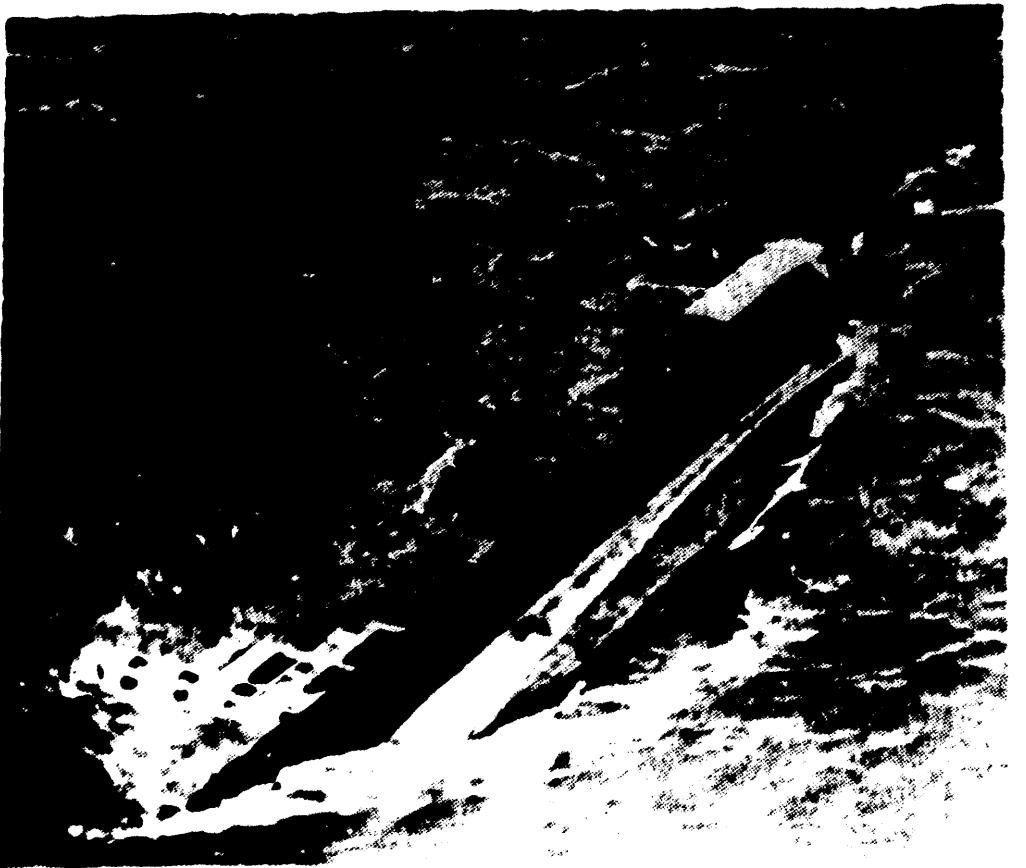

NBC said that more than one million feet of the film was canned to get desired scenes.

Legal problems involving the showing of old personalities also were confronted. The network said more than 500 separate legal contracts had to be drawn up to get a release for the use of old film footage.

Two Firemen Given Eulogy

NEW YORK (AP)—"God knows that they knew there were two people trapped and they were going to rescue them or die in the effort. Like soldiers, they died in the line of duty."

That is Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr.'s epitaph for two firemen killed by smoke during a spectacular blaze that raged for five hours in subterranean storage vaults under the Times Tower.

THE JAPANESE FREIGHTER Hyooshi Maru, badly damaged in a collision with the 7,854-ton American freighter Almeria Lykes, lies on its side in the straits between the Japanese islands of Honshu and Kyushu shortly before its final plunge to the bottom of the sea.

All but three of the 34 crewmen aboard the 2,239-ton Hyooshi Maru were rescued by the Almeria Lykes and a passing vessel. The other three crew members are missing. (AP Wirephoto)

Right-Winger Says 'Fears' Are Justified

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—T. Coleman Andrews agreed with President Kennedy Friday that the far right wing—and I count myself of that persuasion—is both afraid and frustrated.

Andrews, former director of the Internal Revenue Service and 1956 States Rights-Tax Reform candidate for president, said he also agreed with Kennedy's statement that "we of the solid right equate the Democratic party with the welfare state and the welfare state with communism."

Andrews is a leading figure in the controversial John Birch Society and introduced its founder, Robert Welch, at a Richmond appearance earlier this month.

In a statement released through a Virginia publicity service, Andrews said he was afraid "for our nation being engulfed by the Socialists and I see the President of the United States aiding in this eclipse of our personal liberty. I have been frustrated because I have been able to do nothing—or too little—about it. Those to whom I would normally turn, those whose sworn duty is to uphold the Constitution of the United States, are abetting our downfall."

As for the national Democratic party, said Andrews, who now heads a large insurance firm here, it "has fostered in our land the idea that government should assure our personal rights and responsibilities. And this is textbook welfare statism, and welfare statism is socialism, and Communism, by self-proclamation, are Socialists."

"The President is right in his accusation. We do charge the party which he heads is leading us into socialism. His people are working with every tool at their command to make of us something we would vote down in a minute, item by item—if we had the opportunity."

Andrews said the conservative right is winning, however, "and that is why the President took time out to lambast us. You don't shoot at dead horses."

U.S. Official Makes Visit To Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A U.S. State Department official arrived unexpectedly in Santo Domingo Friday as U.S. warships patrolled near this troubled country.

There was no immediate word concerning the mission of Arturo Morales Carrión, deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

He arrived after a night in which tanks cruised the streets of this newly renamed capital and jet planes zoomed overhead to break up mobs looting Trujillo-owned properties.

U.S. warships have been off shore since Sunday's coup which ousted the Trujillo dynasty. The carrier, Franklin D. Roosevelt, seemed to come within 1,500 yards of the shore at one point Friday as it steamed by trailed by two destroyers.

President Joaquin Balaguer, who proclaimed a dusk-to-dawn curfew after Thursday's rioting, has begun receiving leaders of opposition parties. He said he expected to announce shortly a formula to nation needs for reconstruction. This was taken to mean he was trying to work out a coalition or provisional government.

A radio station broadcast unconfirmed reports that the Trujillo family's luxury yacht, Angeli, had been captured and was being returned here. The reports said $80 million was found aboard but gave no details.

U.N. Adopts Nuclear Ban Resolutions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Asian, African and Soviet-bloc countries forced adoption in the U.N. General Assembly Friday of two nuclear prohibition measures, sweeping aside Western objections to uncontrolled and partial bans.

By 55-20 with 25 abstentions, the assembly approved an Asian-African measure to declare the use of nuclear weapons in war a crime against mankind and a violation of the U.N. Charter.

The United States, Britain and France voted against the resolution because, they said, they could not accept any proposal calling for an uncontrolled, uninspected prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons, especially in self-defense.

The measure called for acting Secretary-General U Thant to consider calling an international conference to sign a treaty that would outlaw nuclear weapons in war.

The assembly voted 55-0 with 44 abstentions to approve a resolution that would make the African continent a zone free of nuclear weapons by forbidding testing or using any part of Africa as a nuclear weapons base or storage point. The United States, Britain and France and 10 new African nations of the French community abstained.

U.S., Soviet Berlin Chiefs Hold Parley

BERLIN (AP)—The top Soviet officer in East Berlin, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, came across to West Berlin Friday for an hour's talk with his American opposite, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II. Both are city commanders.

The meeting was at Solovyev's request, a U.S. spokesman said. He declined to reveal what went on, except to say "matters of mutual interest were discussed."

The spokesman said Solovyev asked for the meeting with Watson earlier this week. The recipient of about a dozen protests from U.S., British and French communists since the East German Communists started their Berlin wall April 13, the Russian apparently asked for the appointment before the Russians delayed by 14½ hours.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's envoy to Berlin, explained to Mayor Willy Brandt Friday why American officers turned over to the Communists a 20-year-old refugee who had stayed away on a train.

The explanation: it was a hard decision, but post-World War II agreements with the Russians do not give the United States extrajurisdictional rights on the trains. In other words, the trains are not a bit of American territory like an embassy in a foreign country.

West Berliners are concerned over anything that happens on the vital lifelines connecting their isolated city to the West.

Nothing was known of what happened to the refugee, ADN, the East German news agency, identified him as Siegfried Pump of Gerwisch, a small town on the railroad line west of Berlin. As usual, when a refugee gets publicity, the Communists said he was wanted for crime burglary in this case.

Apparently he broke a window and climbed aboard when the train made a stop at Gerwisch. Pump's fate was the subject of editorials in West Berlin papers. Most of them sympathized with the dilemma of the American officers. Only one, the tabloid Bz. criticized the American decision as "incomprehensible."

There was not statement on what Brandt thought of the affair. His spokesman only said that "various opinions" were expressed at his meeting with Clay.

Some newspapers speculated that Pump was a Communist plant, and not a true refugee. The U.S. Embassy at Bonn said this was a possibility.

White House Former Aid Joins Latins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lauchlin Currie, former White House aide whose name a decade ago, came into congressional investigations of a Soviet spy ring and now a citizen of Colombia and has worked for the Colombian government as an economic advisor.

But the Colombian Embassy and the State Department say that Currie has had nothing to do with the disbursement of U.S. aid to Colombia, a possibility that was raised by Sen. Frank Lautenberg, D-N.J., in a Senate speech last September.

The embassy said Friday that Currie has been a Colombian citizen for about five years and has worked for the Colombian government in an advisory capacity in certain economic development programs.

However, Currie has had nothing to do with the spending of U.S. aid to Colombia, an embassy spokesman said.

A State Department spokesman also said Currie "has no connection with U.S. aid."

Currie, 59, a Canadian-born, economist and former Harvard professor, was one of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administrative assistants in the early 1940s. In 1941, Roosevelt sent him on a special mission to China and in 1950, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., asserted that Currie had vetted orders for captured German arms to be shipped to the Chinese Nationalists after V-E day. Currie called the charge "utterly ridiculous."

Currie also figured in the testimony of Elizabeth Bentley, confessed former Soviet spy courier, who said in 1951 that Currie was one of a group that fed secret data to her spy ring in earlier years. Currie, in Colombia at the time, denied the charges but never did return to the United States to testify before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that was investigating them.

In testimony to congressional investigators, Louis Budenz, a confessed ex-Communist, accused Currie of helping smear anti-Soviet elements in the U.S. State Department. Currie denied this.

As a naturalized U.S. citizen, Currie lost his citizenship automatically when he spent more than five years in Colombia without returning to the United States.

He is reported to be married to a Colombian and has what one State Department official described as "good political connections" there.

Asked specifically whether Currie was connected in any capacity with the use of U.S. aid, the official said, "There is no question he's trying to do that. But he hasn't done it."

So far Currie has developed an overall economic development plan for Colombia, which has not been accepted by the government. He also served as an advisor in a regional development plan for the Magdalena region. An embassy spokesman said he had worked under contract with the Colombian government "for several studies."

Monroe Locke Services Set

FERRIDAY (Special)—Graveside services for Monroe Locke, 68, Ferriday, will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday at Pleasant Hill Cemetery, near Weasant Ark. Under the direction of Youngs Funeral Home of Ferriday.

Survivors include three brothers, E. N. Locke of El Dorado, Ark., Cornelius Locke of Benton, Ark., Norman and Buccell Locke, both of Pritchard, Ala.; and one sister, Lovenia Brown, El Dorado.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Prince Alfonso of Bourbon, young grandson of the last king of Spain, has added considerable glamour to local society with his current visit. The ladies flipped over him at the Polonaise Ball... English set designer Sean Kenny, who did the scenery for the London musical hit, "Oliver," has been refused permission to work on the Broadway production. Kenny indignantly claims that he has refused membership in the American Scenic Artists' Union because he has accepted an invitation to work in Castro's Cuba as an architect...

Sugar Ray Robinson isn't through with boxing, despite the considered opinion of many experts that he ought to be. He plans to challenge Archie Moore for the lightweight championship, figuring to get his share of just one more $1,000,000 gate before hanging up his mitts for the last time. Dick Sheridan, the drummer with the Bobby Short group at the Blue Angel, is in bandages after being attacked by two men armed with knives and an iron pipe on 8th Ave. while he was on his way home from work. Insiders say a famous actress in a show soon to hit Broadway is so incensed at an actor in the cast that she tried to have him fired. No professional jealousy or anything like that; he spurned her amorous attentions, and she's behaving like the traditional "woman scorned."

Road Survey Is Scheduled On Route 34

The state department of highways is planning an aerial survey of the West Monroe - Eros highway, route 34, in the near future. Highway Director Ray W. Burgess said yesterday that bids for the contract to conduct the survey will be opened Dec. 7 in Baton Rouge.

In a letter to Rep. Lawrence Gibbs, Burgess said that a new system of surveying will be undertaken. The state will make aerial photographs of the entire project under consideration to determine what work is needed on the highway.

Gibbs emphasized last night that this does not mean that work on the road will begin immediately, but that a survey to determine what needs to be done will be conducted.

The aerial - vertical method of running surveys is new, Gibbs said. The legislator said that the West Monroe - Eros project is a top matter with the Ouachita delegation in the legislature, including Rep. Mike John Jr. and Sen. Jamar W. Adcock, and that "it is hoped that in the future this survey will bring a contract for the work needed on this vital project."

Gibbs also said that he had been informed by Fifth District Engineer that a similar survey will be conducted on the Arkansas Road from North Seventh Street in West Monroe to Drew.

Boat Company Personnel Give Testimony Here

Persons connected with the fire-damaged Yellow Jacket Boat Manufacturing Co. testified at an insurance deposition-taking session Friday afternoon in Fourth District courtroom.

James E. White, president of the company, and his secretary, Mrs. Joann Hayes, were among those to testify.

White was released from the Ouachita Parish jail on $500 bond earlier this week. He had been confined on a charge of criminal contempt.

Mrs. Hayes, 21, of 106 Patton Dr., West Monroe, and White, 36, 110 Jerry St., West Monroe, were arrested on criminal contempt charges on Nov. 14, in connection with their refusal to testify at a state fire marshal's hearing to investigate the October 23 blaze.

Yesterday's deposition session was conducted by the insurance companies which insured the concern.

Attorneys for White and Mrs. Hayes have stated that they advised their clients not to testify at the fire marshal's hearing because the attorneys could not be present.

Both the Yellow Jacket president and the secretary refused to testify at this hearing on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate them.

The Ouachita Parish sheriff's department and the state fire marshal's office have been investigating the fire, according to Deputy Fire Marshal Garland May.

First Meeting In 31 Years Slated Today

FERRIDAY (Special)—A man from Ridgecrest, near Ferriday, and his sister, who have not seen each other in 31 years, will be reunited in Alexandria today.

W. L. Brewer arranged to meet his sister, Mrs. Don Yates, of Big Springs, Tex., for their first sight of each other in over three decades.

The two spent their early childhood in an orphanage in Texas and later, when each was adopted by different families, lived within 40 miles of each other on the Louisiana Texas border for 10 years without knowing it.

Joan Crawford, Dazzling In A Yellow Oriental Silk Dress, Dined With A Chap Named John Bowen

at Volain the other night and dropped the news that she'd be taking off for Buenos Aires right after the Thanksgiving holidays. It'll be a combination of vacation and business trip. Some of Sherman Douglas' chums are suspects when they broadcast the information that novelist Norman Mailer has become a member of "the Sherman set." She's met him, she says, "for about 10 seconds," but has never entertained him, never read one of his books, and didn't know he'd stabbed his wife until she read it here. The link, of course, is Lady Jean Campbell, who is a good friend of Sherman's and has been seen quite a bit with Mr. Mailer recently; that probably sparked the conclusion - jumping. Actually, Sherman recalled, when trying to figure out how the big rumor started, she did invite them up to tea one day but they never made it. Here's what a Broadway hit can do for you: Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert, authors of "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying," have been offered three pictures, two shows and a TV series.

The Duke of Argyll, who over the years has managed to attract 30,000 tourists to his castle at Inveraray, wrote a fiery tirade criticizing tourist facilities in his native Scotland, and the article is destined to be circulated in over 100 countries. His wordage seems calculated to make Scotland unpopular abroad and the Duke unpopular in Scotland. Duke - opener to look forward to: red-haired Jill St. John in a gold lame bathing suit in the film version of "Tender Is the Night."

Veteran actor Monty Woolley, living in Saratoga Springs, is working on his autobiography for Harcourt Brace, with the capable assistance of Phyllis I. Rosenfeld, whose new book, "The Single Women," is causing considerable talk. Incidentally, "The Single Women" will have newspaper serialization. (It's interesting to married women, too.)

Freddie Fields and David Begelman, who worked such magic for Judy Garland, are said to be planning a cross-country concert tour for Ethel Merman.

Reports that another Cuban invasion is being plotted by Cuban exiles is gaining credence since tough-looking characters have been circulating around the waterfront districts attempting to recruit members for the invasion army. They're backing up their offer of good pay by flashing huge rolls of U.S. currency.

Martine Carol, who reigned as the French screen's leading sex symbol until she was dethroned with somewhat of a thud by Brigitte Bardot, can't get over the unhappy fact that she's no longer No. 1. Her friends are worrying about her depressed moods.

Jayne Mansfield and Tina Louise types, our most peripatetic ribbon-cutters, can move over while an Academy Award winner joins their ranks. Susan Hayward, of all people, will officiate at the ground-breaking ceremonies of a seven-million-dollar apartment house soon to be constructed in Miami Beach. She must get a very fancy fee for that sort of thing.

The M-tropolis, which has featured small combos as its jazz policy, will go in for big bands in a big way — all because of Lionel Hampton's record-breaking engagement in September. Hamp returns there and the management has signed contracts with Duke Ellington, Maynard Ferguson and Woody Herman for early in 1962. Woody will reorganize his large crew after fronting a sextet for several years.

Zsa Zsa Gabor's romance - watchers predict she and Bob Stralle will elope, with considerable fanfare, around Christmas time. (Does that mean he has his divorce papers?)

Rome continues to buzz with the rumor that Anna Magnani and Roberto Rossellini may have resumed where they left off more than a decade ago. At any rate he's been seen visiting her apartment in the Palazzo Alinari and she's been observed cabbieing it to his villa, Santa Marinella, originally a honeymoon house for Ingrid Bergman.

ADDIS ABABA (UPI)—Emperor Haile Selassie Friday offered Somalia $280,000, also 400 tons of cereals and the use of two DC3 planes to help its flood-stricken southern region.

Three plays later halfback Billy Burt punched over from the one, and Jesuit was out front 6-0 with 5:32 to go in the initial period. The extra point kick was no good. The Tigers struck back on the ensuing kickoff. Wilson gathered the ball in at the Neville 12 and raced straight upfield for 80 yards to tie the score. He jumped completely over one man, was almost stopped several times, but managed to stay on his feet and wound up with a white-shirted escort for the final 30 yards.

Howard's kick was wide. PAPPAS RECOVERS Jesuit returned the ball to its 28 on the next kickoff but three plays later halfback Tom Kimball fumbled and Tiger halfback Gary Pappas caught his second of three recovering at the Flyer 38.

It took Neville just eleven plays to go ahead. Brant got the score, dashing over left tackle from the one with 11:04 left in the second period.

Howard's kick was good and Neville led 13-6. Jesuit was stopped cold by the Tiger line as Neville took over at its 40.

On the second play Howard shot through a gap over right tackle, slipped away from about three defenders, cut back to his left, and scampered 61 yards to score.

Pete Terzolas' kick failed in the point attempt, and Neville had a 19-6 with 8:30 left in the half.

The Tigers took the third quarter kickoff at the 15, and marched 84 yards to score on ten plays.

Howard got the touchdown on a 12-yard run, slicing through a hole in the right side of the line.

BOWL HARVEST HEAVY TONIGHT 7 Of Nation's Collegiate Big 10 End Season Today

By WLL GRIMSLEY

Seven of the nation's top 10 college football teams wind up their regular campaigns Saturday and most of them plan not to get too far away from their telephones.

From Pasadena, Calif., to Miami, from New York to New Orleans and Dallas, promoters of the post-season bowl games will be busy trying to pluck the juiciest gridiron plums.

Of the ranking eleven, top-rated Alabama, Texas (No. 5) and Mississippi (No. 6) are idle. Alabama—with Rutgers one of the last two major unbeaten and untied teams—has the week-end off while preparing for the Dec. 2 date with Auburn. Texas whipped Texas A&M 25-0 Thursday and clinched a spot in the Cotton Bowl, where it probably will play Mississippi. The latter has a Dec. 2 game with Mississippi State.

Unbeaten but once-tied Ohio State, No. 2, and Minnesota, No. 3, still have Rose Bowl aspirations despite reports that the Pacific Coast is making eyes in the direction of Alabama.

Ohio State is a touchdown favorite over Michigan at Ann Arbor in a game to be televised in the Midwest region. Minnesota, which has won seven toughies in a row after an opening loss to Missouri, tackles Wisconsin at Minneapolis.

Fourth-ranked Louisiana State, 8-1, plays Tulane at Baton Rouge and, if victorious as expected, immediately will announce acceptance of a bid to the Orange Bowl at Miami. There the Bayou Tigers, who upset mighty Mississippi, will play a representative from the Big Eight—either Colorado or Kansas.

Colorado (7-1) has the better record but the Orange Bowl directors are reported leaning more toward the more colorful Kansas (6-2-1) and its great back, John Hadl. Kansas, No. 10, is host to Missouri and Colorado, No. 7, closes with Iowa State at home.

Arkansas, No. 9, can tie Texas for the Southwest Conference championship by beating Texas Tech but has no chance of rooting the Longhorns out of the Cotton Bowl, host assignment. Texas whipped Arkansas during the regular season 33-7.

If they can lick Texas Tech, a team which has beaten both TCU and Baylor, the Arkansas Razorbacks look like a cinch for the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. Rice, which faces giant-killer TCU, also is a prospect with the Blue Bonnet Bowl also a possibility.

The Sugar Bowl could be left grabbing at flitting straws if the Rose Bowl-Alabama love match grows any more torrid and Mississippi carries out a reported desire to play in the Cotton Bowl. With Louisiana State having already spurned the neighboring Sugar Bowl, the New Orleans people would be left without any one of the Southeastern Conference's top teams—Alabama, Mississippi and LSU.

The only hope for the Sugar Bowl sponsors is that the Pacific Coast change its rigid attitude toward the Ohio State or Minnesota as a match for the winner of the UCLA-Southern California game. These two bitter Los Angeles rivals clash for the Rose Bowl host berth.

If a Big Ten team is chosen for Pasadena-Ohio State, if it can beat Michigan; otherwise, Minnesota—then that would leave Alabama free to play at New Orleans. Alabama is said to prefer the Rose Bowl, where it has a rich tradition dating back to 1926.

Michigan State is the only team in the top 10 not working up a sweat over the bowl developments. The Spartans, 6-2 and ranked eighth nationally, play Illinois in their final game, and then they're through. They'll spend the holidays in comfort.

In the East, Rutgers hopes to complete its first perfect season with a victory over Columbia, which already has clinched a tie for the Ivy League championship. Princeton and Harvard can gain a share of the Ivy title by beating Dartmouth and Yale, respectively, in their final games.

Syracuse, central of a controversy as the result of the post-game field goal which gave Notre Dame a 17-15 victory, plays at Boston College in a game to be televised by Eastern and Southern television audiences. Syracuse already has been picked for the Liberty Bowl game in Philadelphia Dec. 16.

Maryland, holding a conditional bid, must beat Virginia to play Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. Washington and Washington State meet in the regional television game for the challenger for the European West Coast, California is at Oregon and Oregon State at Oregon (King of Reno, Nev., Friday night).

Forest Quintet From Behind To Tip St. Matthew

FOREST, La. (Special)—Coming from behind a half-time deficit, Forest High's varsity quintet defeated St. Matthew's of Monroe, 59-45, on the basketball floor here last night.

Mike Vining and Richard Strong led the Forest attack with 21 and 15 points respectively. Mike Clements was high scorer for St. Matthew's with 15 points. The Monroe team held a 27 to 25 lead at the half.

In a preliminary contest, the St. Matthew's "B" team defeated Forest, 38 to 16.

Tangerine Bid To Lamar Tech Okayed Friday

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Lamar Tech of Beaumont, Tex., Friday night accepted the Tangerine Bowl bid and will meet Middle Tennessee of Murfreesboro Dec. 29.

The Texas school took the invitation after Furman and The Citadel turned it down.

Lamar has a 6-2-1 record and Mexican Polytechnical Institute in Mexico City Dec. 2. The team wound up third in the Lone Star Conference this year.

Middle Tennessee is runner up in the Ohio Valley Conference with a 7-3 record.

SPORTS LSU's Frosh Down Little Wave, 14 To 0

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana State's three-deep freshman squad were down a surprisingly strong Tulane freshman team and posted a 14-0 victory Friday night.

The baby Tigers, with some of last year's top prep stars, were held scoreless after a first half in which Tulane gained 38. He went the final two yards over left tackle.

The game attracted 16,000 people—a modern record for a Tulane freshman contest.

LSU drove 75 yards in 13 plays in the first period for the first tally with LeBlanc gaining 38. He went the final two yards over left tackle.

LSU began its second touchdown drive late in the second quarter with LeBlanc taking a 14-yard toss from quarterback Pat Screen for the score. The 67-yard thrust was completed in 13 plays with LeBlanc again gaining the majority of the yardage. Fullback Donald Schwab kicked both extra points.

The outmanned Tulane squad dug in during the second half and halted three more LSU drives.

Top guns for the Tulane offense, which was only able to penetrate to the LSU 18, were quarterbacks Bob Boisvert and Carl Jory and halfback Jerry Graves.

Beg Release Of Cage Fixer By Christmas

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A woman pleaded Friday for her husband's release before Christmas from the prison cell where he is serving time on charges of trying to bribe college basketball players.

Mrs. Frances Sebastian nearly broke down as she told the State Pardons Board:

"It's difficult to keep the children believing that their father is in California. They ask for him."

Her husband, Dr. Edward H. Sebastian, 35, of nearby Kennedy Township, has served five months of an eight to 23-month workhouse term. He was convicted on charges of trying to bribe University of Pittsburgh basketball players John Fridley and Dick Falenski to play points in Pitt games during the 1959-60 season.

In another case, Tom Tannas, who co-managed former heavy-weight boxing champion Ezzard Charles, asked the board to pardon his gambling convictions in 1938 and 1939.

Tannas had been fined $25 on the one conviction and was ordered to pay only prosecutions costs on the other.

Tannas now owns a variety store in Arnold, Pa. His attorney, Leonard Martino, told the board Tannas has led an "exemplary life."

The board will hand down decisions in both cases later.

Fair Grounds' Featured Race To Ward Bond

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ward Bond took the featured race at the New Orleans Fair Grounds Friday as 7,738 racing fans turned out for the second day of the 1961-62 winter meeting.

Ward Bond, ridden by Jockey R. L. Baird, covered the six furlongs in 1:21.1 and paid $22.60.

Amberbuler was second and Susie's Doll took show and returned $2.60.

The daily double, Fort Bull ($15.40) and Jimmy O ($6), paid $48.20.

Calhoun Quint. Bastrop Girls Register Wins

CALHOUN, La. (Special)—The Calhoun Chieftains produced a neat team effort here last night to repulse the triple-A Bastrop Rams, 51-48.

Freshman sensation James Futrell led the Chiefs with 12 points, closely pressed by mates Bobby Brownlee with 11, James Weems and Paul Thompson with 10 each, and David Graves with eight.

Eugene Bates and Robert Malone each hooped 11 points for the Rams.

The Bastrop girls scored a 31-24 victory over the Calhoun sextet as Kathy Dowdy led the way with 15 points. Diane Saxon was high scorer for Calhoun with 11.

The Bastrop "B" boys also won the curtain-raiser on the triple-header show, 43-18.

BULLDOG BASKETBALL Sophs Figuring Strong At Tech

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Louisiana Tech Coach Cecil Crowley, preparing for the season cage opener against Mississippi State Dec. 8, is experimenting with a first unit that includes two sophomores and a second unit composed of five sophomores.

Ron McNabb and A. J. Burlew are sophs operating with Jack Fair, Jim Graves, and Max Lewis on one unit. The other outfit is composed of Butch Miller, Dave Hruska, Tommy Gist, Joe Abendroth, and Jess Bridges.

Others certain to see action are freshmen Ray Penny of Coushatta, Bob Bretz and Jerry Hood of Ruston and Max Howard of Pineville. Joe Moreland is a letterman reserve.

In the early going, the Tech team has shown better ability to hit from the outside than the Bulldogs club that won only seven and lost 16 last year.

Miller, the Jackson, Miss., soph guard, Penny, and Bretz hit well from outside.

Joe Daigle and Ron Futrell, who led Tech in both scoring and rebounding last year, are missing. As a result, the Tech club lacks both height and experience.

Crowley is attempting to offset this by use of the platoon system. The Techsters will have more speed than in recent years.

The Bulldogs face Mississippi State in Starkville Dec. 6 and Ole Miss in Oxford the next night. The home opener will be Dec. 15 against Southeast Oklahoma State.

RACING ROUNDUP

Look For Lark In Display Run

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer

T. V. Larks first race since his surprise triumph over Kelso in the Washington D. C. International two weeks ago is expected to highlight Saturday's thoroughbred racing program.

Unless his connections decide otherwise because of muddy track conditions or the top weight of 130 pounds, the son of Indian Hemp is expected to go in the $50,000-added Display Handicap at Aqueduct. At two miles this is the longest stake of the New York season and is over the dirt course instead of grass on which T. V. Lark excels.

A small field is in prospect for the Display. Polyad, winner of the Gallant Fox Handicap last Saturday, is virtually certain to accept his 117-pound impost as is Hillsborough, Ill., a fast closing second in the Gallant Fox.

While the handicap horses are in action at Aqueduct, 2-year-olds get the spotlight at Pimlico, Tanforan and Tropical Park. The $20,000-added Marguerite Stakes at Pimlico is for 2-year-old fillies. The $10,000-added El Camino Handicap at Tanforan and the $10,000-added Alligator Stakes at Tropical are for juvenile colts.

Elsewhere there is the Crescent City purse at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans and the Hope Valley purse for 3-year-olds at Narragansett.

Tamara, winner of the Selma stakes at Laurel, tops the Marguerite field and is expected to turn the tables on Rum Bottle Bay, surprise winner of the Marguerite prep last Monday.

Indian Blood, winner of the Haggin Stakes at Hollywood Park and regarded as perhaps the best juvenile colt on the Pacific coast, tops the El Camino field with 122 pounds. Native Diver, winner of his last two races, is expected to provide stern opposition in the 6-furlong sprint.

Holy Cross pushed across the winning touchdown with six seconds left in the game. Quarterback Mac Brouseau, whose passing put the Tigers within scoring distance, went the final 2 yards for the tally.

Brouseau scored the other Holy Cross touchdown on an 8-yard run in the first quarter.

St. Aloysius tied the game midway in the final period on Bobby Burns' 1-yard plunge.

59th LSU, Tulane Grid Clash Pits Arch-Foes

66,000 Fans Expected For 2 P.M. Kickoff

BATON ROUGE, La. (Special) — Louisiana State's 59th meeting with arch-rival Tulane should provide an interesting contest in football offense Saturday, as well as the usual bitter battle for victory. A crowd of 66,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. kickoff in Tiger Stadium.

The Tigers of LSU are basically a power running team, while Tulane, nursing upset ambitions, is expected to come out throwing. The result could make this game another close one like the past two LSU victories, 14-6 in 1959, and 17-6 last season.

Coach Paul Dietzel has several fine running backs, and two of them, halfback Jerry Stovall, and fullback Earl Gros rank third and fourth, respectively in South-eastern Conference rushing. Stovall has carried 59 times for a gain of 375 yards and a 6.3 average, and Gros has gained 367 yards in 60 carries for a 4.5 average.

Stovall, and Gros, along with halfback Wendell Harris, the SEC's leading scorer, and quarterback Jimmy Field, keep the White team moving with their varied running threats.

The Go team, LSU's offensive specialists, will also try to crack Tulane's tough interior line with the running of halfbacks Bo Campbell and Ray Wilkins. Campbell ranks third in team rushing and carries a 6.9 average into the game, and Wilkins is the Tigers' No. 4 rusher. Quarterback Lynn Amedee, who scored two touchdowns in last year's win over the Green Wave, could take to the air against Tulane. He leads LSU in passing with 35 completions for 427 yards and two touchdowns.

Tulane's offensive endeavors will be directed by quarterback Jack Domingue. And there is every indication that the junior quarterback from Lafayette will carry Tulane's hopes of an upset on his passing arm. Most every team that this year has done it through the air. The Tigers have given up five touchdowns passes this fall. With a 2-7 record Coach Andy Pilney can throw caution to the wind, while LSU, hoping to add a ninth straight success, will be more careful.

Upsets have been common in this series, but in recent years it has been LSU that has pulled the upset. Coach Dietzel tied a favored Tulane team in his first Tiger-Green contest in 1955. The Green Wave was favored again in 1956, but LSU pulled out a 7-6 win. LSU was also an upset winner in 1949, 21-0, and entered the 1952 Tulane game with only two previous wins, but surprised the Wave 16-0. The Greensies haven't won since 1948 when they bludgeoned LSU, 46-0.

Those Tiger upsets would be small in comparison of Tulane could knock off LSU Saturday, and the Greensies will be going all out to win this one.

LSU, which is expected to announce after the game that it has accepted an invitation to the Orange Bowl game in Miami Jan. 1, has won eight straight since an opening 16-0 loss to Rice. The Tigers are fourth in this week's Associated Press poll. Tulane has won two in nine games.

One Tulane coach, assistant Bob Whitman, calls the current LSU team "as good as the '58 club." That's the outfit that swept 10 regular season games including a 62-0 rout of Tulane, won the Sugar Bowl and was voted the nation's No. 1 team.

Whitman said "the quality of their backs this season are better than the crop... on the national championship team." He mentioned first string halfbacks Jerry Stovall and Wendell Harris, reserve halfbacks Bo Campbell and Ray Wilkins, who play offense only with LSU's "Go" team, and fullback Earl Gros, the hero of last Saturday's 14-6 victory over Mississippi State.

LSU named seven captains for the game—the team's seven seniors, Harris, Gros, Winston, halfback Tommy Neck, guard Monk Guillot and tackles Billy Booth and Bob Richards.

LSU still uses the three-team system that it made famous in 1958. The "White" team starts and plays offense and defense, the "Go" team plays offense and the "Chinese Bandits" are defensive specialists.

Against this, Tulane will throw a line that unbeaten Alabama called as good as any the Crimson Tide have faced this season. Tulane has several good running backs in Larry McIntyre, Sammy Camp and Gordon Rush and quarterbacks Jack Domingue and Al Burguerie who can throw the ball.

STOVALL, CAMPBELL FINE

11 North Staters Big Help To LSU

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Few college football teams anywhere have two left halfbacks on a par with Louisiana State's Jerry Stovall and Bo Campbell. Both have gained over 300 yards entering the final game of the season with Tulane Saturday.

Stovall, a junior from West Monroe, is the Tigers' top rusher with 375 yards in 59 carries for a 6.3 average. Campbell, a junior from Shreveport, has gained 304 yards in 44 carries for a 6.9 average.

Campbell has sparked the Go team, this season with his swift broken field running. He Tiger offensive specialists, the second in team scoring with 24 points and four touchdowns. Two of his touchdowns came on exciting long runs — a 59-yard burst in the Kentucky game, and a 54-yard sprint against North Carolina.

Stovall, a fine all-around back who punts, catches passes and plays defense ably, may be in line for All-Southern conference honors this fall.

In addition to these two, there are nine more north Louisiana products who have helped the Tigers compile an 8-1 record entering the finale with Tulane. There's Go team right halfback Ray Wilkins, and two defensive standouts for the Bandits, tackle Fred Miller and end Bob Flurry, all of Homer; starting tackle Billy Booth, Bandit guard Sammy Odom, and fullback Charles Cranford, all of Minden; Bandit regulars Robbie Hucklebridge at guard and halfback John Mercer, both of Bossier City; and Go team end Danny Neumann of Tallulah.

Wilkins ranks fourth in team rushing with 236 yards in 59 carries for a 4.0 average. His 33-yard touchdown dash against Florida helped clinch that victory.

Cranford has carried 40 times for 130 yards and a 3.1 average. He is also a favorite target of quarterback Lynn Amedee. Charlie has caught seven passes for 101 yards this season.

Tiger line play has been outstanding this season, and some of the primary contributors of top line play at LSU have been Booth, the senior right tackle, Miller, the junior right tackle, sophomore guards Odom and Hucklebridge, and Flurry, a junior who has played well as a defensive corner back.

Another fine defensive back is Mercer, who suffered a knee injury in the Tigers' 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. "It was a real shame, too," said coach Paul Dietzel. "Mercer knows our defense better than any player on the team." Mercer may be able to play against Tulane Saturday.

Neumann has turned in a fine job of adjusting to left end with the Go team. The former halfback is a strong blocker, and has caught two passes for 19 yards and two touchdowns. He has also punted for a 43.6 average in 10 kicks.

MOBILE OPEN

Brewer's Fancy 66 Forges Lead

By STAN ATKINS

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Jubilant Gay Brewer Jr. shot a 6-under-par 66 Friday and moved four strokes out in front in the second round of the $15,000 Mobile Open Golf Tournament.

The 29-year-old Crystal River, Fla., pro had tied with two others for the lead Thursday with an opening 69. His card now reads 66-66-135. The 66 is the lowest round of the tournament so far.

Bunched at 139 were Johnny Pott, Shreveport, La., 70-69; Leo Biagetti, Ashland, Ohio, 69-70; and Tom Niepoorte, Bronxville, N.Y., 70-69. Potts scored the tournament's only eagle so far, a 2-under-par three on the 490-yard, 15th hole where his 15-foot putt trickled into the cup.

The constant Brewer was never in trouble Friday. He used only 29 putts for the 18 holes, missed only two greens, but recovered well and was never over par.

Brewer's card was 33-33-66 over the par 36-36-72, 6,800-yard Mobile Municipal Course. Scores were generally lower Friday as the weather moderated and play continued under clear skies with virtually no winds. The cutoff point was 151 with 64 pros making it into the final two rounds. There were no major casualties.

George Knudson of Toronto, Canada, was alone in fifth place with 70-70-140; followed by defending champion Arnold Palmer with 73-70-143; and Dan Dikes Jr., Jacksonville, Fla., 71-71-142. Palmer, weary from a long worldwide golf

Pills Peddled To Coaches Are Nabbed By FDA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug Administration announced Friday seizure of a drug it said was being promoted falsely to athletic coaches as an aid to physical endurance.

FDA named the drug as "Coach-Aid Stim-O-Stim Food Supplement," shipped by Health Research, Inc., Little Rock, Ark. According to the label the active ingredients are alkali phosphate salts, the agency said.

The FDA said it seized 66 cans, with 200 tablets in each, of the drug and also 48 cans, with 500 tablets in each, of "Coach-Aid Special Formula N.B. Pills" in possession of FMSCO Industries in Birmingham.

The pills were labeled "to improve resistance to bruising, bleeding and the common cold," FDA said. It charged that products would not be effective for the conditions for which they were represented in their labeling.

National Pro Gridders Map Playoff Plans

NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League teams with a mathematical chance to win or tie in the Eastern and Western Divisions were invited Friday to meet at Commissioner Pete Rozelle's office next Tuesday to determine playoff possibilities.

A coin will be flipped to determine possible pairings, Rozelle said. At present six of the seven teams (Washington is eliminated) in the East and five in the West (Los Angeles and Minnesota are out) still have a chance to tie or win in the regular race ending Dec. 17.

Dec. 24 is open for possible playoffs with the championship game set for Dec. 31. In case of double playoffs, the tie contest would be forced back another week.

The Green Bay Packers (9-2) need to win only one of their remaining three games to clinch the Western crown. The Eastern race is more complicated with only one game separating the first three teams. The New York giants are first with 8-2 followed by the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles at 7-3 each. The Giants play at Cleveland and Philadelphia hosts Dallas this Sunday.

Blue, Crimson In 78th Play Of 'The Game'

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — America's most famous football series brings Harvard and Yale into the huge Bowl here Saturday for their 78th game since 1875.

Cheering them on will be some 60,000 rooters, most of them wearing crimson or blue, back for the hoary granddaddy of all traditional rivalries, the holy of holies. If history repeats itself, The Game, will be hard fought, brutal, and even bloody.

Hard-hitting Harvard's home stretch drive of four straight over Ivy League foes against Yale's mediocre showing has established the Crimson as a slight favorite.

A win for Harvard will give the Crimson — conquerors of Princeton — the Big Three championship and a tie for the Ivy League crown, which Yale won for the second time last year.

Both Harvard (5-3 overall and 5-1 Ivy) and Yale (4-4 and 3-3), plagued by early season injuries, say they're healthy for the 1:30 p.m. EST, kickoff. Sunny skies are predicted.

The Crimson's more experienced line anchored by Capt. Pete Hart gives the edge to the rugged warriors. Coaches John Yovicsin of Harvard and Jordan Olivar of Yale predict most of the impolite violence will come from down front.

Yovicsin and Olivar, whose 10 years at Yale makes him the dean of Ivy coaches, are both aware of the peculiar things the game has done to participants, especially coaches.

The Blue's famed Tad Jones once delivered a philippic to his impressive heroes that went like this:

"Gentlemen, you are about to play football for Yale against Harvard. Never in your lives will you do anything so important."

It's corn, but it has worked. Both teams drilled here Friday afternoon. There were no visible signs of murder in their hearts as they completed preparations for their confrontation. But Saturday is another day.

Yale leads in the series with 44 victories against 26 defeats. Seven games have ended in ties.

Morgan City Grooms For Golf Tourney

MORGAN CITY, La. (Special)

— The Louisiana State Open and Louisiana Professional Golfers Organization Tournament, a gallery-thriller for some 25 years, will see a field of some 30 club and touring professionals and 40 low-handicap amateurs from throughout the state in a battle for $2,000 worth of money or prizes Dec. 1-3 at Morgan City's St. Mary Golf and Country Club.

Names are rolling in, according to general tournament chairman W. K. Thompson, and the promise of others has heightened South Louisiana's excitement as neighboring clubs in Thibodaux and Houma have pitched in to help Morgan City's club stage its first Louisiana Open.

Freddie Haas of New Orleans, defending Open champion, will be here to protect his title. Haas also holds the titles of Southeastern PGA champion for 1960 and 1961.

Also scheduled to play are Ned White, Quercus Park club pro at Shreveport, winner of the '55 La. Open; Ralph Sicks, Kyouchee Coulee club pro at Lake Charles, twice winner of the Kansas State Amateur and LPGA champion in '59; Cotton Hill, colorful, East Texas PGA champion in 1959, and Gray Little, Lake Charles club pro, La. Open champion in 1942, '48 and '49.

Frank Champ, Palmetto club pro, Benton, who won the Texas PGA in 1948 and the La. Open in '54, '55 and '56, and Johnny Myers, Bastrop, La. Open winner in 1950, have also said they will be here.

Area club pros who have signed up include Dub Bowie, Bayou Country Club, Thibodaux, and Billy Capps, Belleview Country Club, Franklin.

Visiting amateurs will include the familiar names of Sammy Love, Jr., Shreveport, Burt Burdick, LSU, the Picard brothers, Pat and Shirley, of Lafayette, and, from the Morgan City club, Gus Thorogson, current club champ, a title he has won six times, Dr. Bill Barletta, three-time club champion, George Nix, who scored a hole-in-one two weeks ago here, Al Hartness, and several others.

Tickets are $1 for each of the first two days and $2 for the final day, or a combination for $3. A pro-am on Thursday gets the big golfing week end underway. Other events, in addition to 54 holes of three-day tournament play, are a catfish fry Friday afternoon and a cocktail dance Saturday night.

Officers of the LPGA are Ralph Sicks, president; Joe Barbado, v-p, Colonial club pro, Harahan, and Dub Bowie, secretary-treasurer. New officers will be elected at the Morgan City meet.

Ricky Watches Baseball Fade, Football Climb

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—Branch Rickey, a figure to be reckoned with in baseball since signing his first contract in 1903, says if baseball doesn't watch out, football will become the nation's No. 1 sport.

Rickey, in Elmira to visit a daughter and her family for the Thanksgiving holidays also watched a grandson play in a small fry football game.

"How many people do you think watched pro football Sunday, both in person or on television?" he asked.

"I look for football to extend its season in the near future. It's not out of the question to see football as a year-round sport. If the people want it, if they'll pay for it, the market very possibly will be opened all year."

Major league baseball seems to be declining in popularity, he said. He also said "it's a growing sport world-wide and is rapidly gaining popularity in our own colleges, high school and youth programs."

Salim Favored In Video Bout With Bahama

NEW YORK (AP)—Farid Salim, the tall, skinny Argentine middleweight champion, was rated an 8-5 favorite Friday to whip skillful Yama Bahama of Bimini in a television fight at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

The 16-rounder will be telecast nationally (ABC TV), 10 p.m. EST. Salim, 25, 6-1 and 160 pounds, will be seeking his second straight victory in the United States and his eighth consecutive triumph of the year. His record is 32-1 and two draws, with 14 knockouts.

Bahama, 28, has won his last two and has a 68-12-3 record, including 22 knockouts.

The Argentine showed a fast right hand in outpointing Teddy Wright of Detroit in his U.S. debut at the Garden a month ago. Wright came to Salim and made it easy for the invader to counter punch. Bahama, however, prefers to wait for his opponents to lead.

Salim said that wouldn't bother him.

Paret Sets Up Training Camp

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret set up training camp in a Las Vegas gambling hotel Friday for his middleweight title fight Dec. 9 with champion Gene Fullmer.

Fullmer arrives next Wednesday to begin final preparations for the 15-rounder at the Convention Center.

OWENS GETS HEAVE-HO

Texas A&M Fires Myers On Heels Of Texas Defeat

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Jim Myers, who came to Texas A&M College as athletic director and head football coach when petitioned by 2,292 persons, was fired Friday.

He went the way of four other Aggie coaches over the past 22 years and didn't even attain the average of six years which the last five mentors reached.

Speculation immediately arose that Jim Owens, successful coach of Washington and former assistant at Texas A&M under Paul (Bear) Bryant, would be the new head man.

A tight censorship was clamped on the news at A&M College, which obviously wants to evade the mixup that marked its last efforts to hire a coach when at least four were declared in only to withdraw or disqualify themselves.

They wouldn't even say when the athletic council, which was ordered by the college board of directors to make a recommendation, planned to meet or if it had yet taken any steps toward obtaining a replacement for Myers.

Dr. Christ Groneman, chairman of the athletic council, merely laughed when told of the Owens report that also included the rumor that Owens was waiting until his team finished the season Saturday against Washington State before giving his decision.

The Dallas Times Herald contacted Owens, who said, "I haven't even discussed the A&M situation with anyone."

Myers was fired the day after his team took a 25-0 beating from Texas in the season closing game. It gave him a record of 12-24-4 for his four years at A&M. He also won only five Southwest Conference games and tied three out of 26.

There have been reports for weeks that Myers' contract would not be renewed when it was upland.

COACH JIM MYERS of Texas A. and M. College, shown here with quarterback Ronnie Brice, was fired from his job as head coach and athletic director yesterday. The A. and M. Athletic Council recommended that Myers' contract, due to expire January 23, not be extended. Announcement came after Aggies suffered 25-0 defeat by Texas in their annual Thanksgiving game. (AP Wirephoto)

Jan. 23. The athletic council recommended Friday to the board of directors that it not be renewed and get unanimous approval.

Myers came to A&M from Iowa State, where he had a successful one-year regime after first turning down the job here. But 2,292 A&M students signed a contract petitioning him to come to Aggieland. He succeeded Bryant, who had produced an undefeated team in 1956 and had A&M in a bowl game in 1957.

There were reports that Myers' team this year was wracked with dissension and that the players don't like the coach. But the players denied it.

There was an effigy strung up to Myers the night before the Aggie-Texas game.

ALEXANDRIA, La. (Special) — Leesville and Menard stole much of the thunder from champion Pineville on the All-District 3-AA football team selected by the five conference coaches for the Louisiana Sports Writers Association and released today.

Third-place Leesville produced both the outstanding back and lineman, and Menard had the coach-of-the-year.

Halfback George Smith and end Bobby Craft of Leesville were two of only three unanimous choices in taking their individual honors.

The other player receiving all first team votes was fullback Melvin Mayeaux of Menard, the only junior on the first unit.

Charley Crouch of Menard was an unanimous choice for "coach-of-the-year."

TV, Movie Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Argentine Alex Miteff, once a leading heavyweight contender, has quit the ring and taken a job with a television and movie producer.

He suffered a deep, long cut requiring 16 stitches in losing on a fourth round technical knockout to Ray Batey, a comparative novice, 10 days ago.

In the past year he lost five of seven fights, including a six-round knockout by Cassius Clay, the undefeated Olympic lightweight champion from Louisville.

Miteff won 26, turned pro after winning the Pan-American Games heavyweight title at Mexico City in 1953. His pro record is 24-12-1, including 14 knockouts. He was stopped seven times.

Porkers Can Tie For Lead In Southwest

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. AP — Arkansas and Texas Tech meet here Saturday in a game that could vault Arkansas into a tie for the Southwest Conference championship and into the Sugar Bowl.

The ninth-ranked Razorbacks can tie Texas for the title by beating Tech, and they're favored by three touchdowns.

But Texas Tech has had two weeks to get ready and is capable of the kind of upset Texas Christian pulled on Texas a week ago.

It was that upset that gave Arkansas a shot at a title tie. Matter of fact, Texas Christian has given the Hogs the green light to the league championship for the last three years.

In 1959 TCU beat Texas after the Longhorns had beaten Arkansas. TCU, Texas and Arkansas tied for the title. In 1960, TCU beat Baylor after Baylor had whipped the Hogs, and Arkansas claimed the title alone.

If Arkansas wins Saturday, it would be the second team in Southwest conference history to share in three titles in three years. Texas A&M did it in 1939-41.

Arkansas officials have been talking seriously with Sugar Bowl representatives and the New Orleans Times Picayune said Thursday night the Hogs had tentatively accepted a Sugar Bowl bid.

Arkansas Athletic Director John Barnhill said, however, that there would be no official word until after the Tech game.

A sellout crowd of 41,000 is expected for the 2 p.m., CST, kickoff Saturday.

Tech has yet to beat Arkansas in four meetings.

Begin these times as shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods first listed for morning and afternoon, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Vidalia In Plain Dealing For Bi-District B Scrap

VIDALIA (Special)—There is no rest for weary and none for the victorious.

At least there is none for the Vidalia Vikings football team and it fits both categories.

For the second time in one week the mighty Vikings will take the football field for a Class B playoff game.

And for the second time the game pits two undefeated, untied clubs.

Thursday night the Vikings annexed the district 3-B crown with a 32-6 thumping of previously unbeaten, untied Sicily Island.

Tonight they travel to Plain Dealing to battle the all-victorious Lions at 8 p.m. in an opening round bi-district scrap.

Plain Dealing, under the leadership of Coach Frank Bishop, has won 10 straight games.

Vidalia has an 11-game streak going.

The Lions, like the Vikings, are paced by the running efforts of two sensational halfbacks.

These men, "Trigger" Allen and Charles Gray, have accounted for 2,700 yards this fall.

Allen is the top scorer in the district with 114 points.

His coach says he has a nose for scoring and points to the game in which Allen carried six times and scored five touchdowns.

Bishop, singles out Gray as one of the finest open-field runners in schoolboy circles.

In addition, the Lions have a fine quarterback in Steve Brandano and an expert blocker in fullback Cotton Sanders.

Plain Dealing's line is said to be solid throughout.

The Lions are a deep, experienced team.

They have 17 senior squadmen and a number of defensive specialists.

Proof of their strength is seen in the fact that Plain Dealing has won its district three of the last four years and went to the state semi-finals last fall.

Lion victims this year have been Coushatta 19-3, Haughton 34-14, Queen City 30-0, Serepta 27-0, Loganport 33-0, Ashdown, Ark. 20-0, Arcadia 27-7, Benton 34-14, Bernice 42-7, and Cotton Valley 31-20.

Ramrods of the Vidalia ground corps are halfbacks George Franklin and Jessie Wilson.

Franklin added 90 yards in 17 carries against Sicily Island Thursday to boost his total to 774 yards for the season.

Wilson got 96 yards in 19 tries for a 736 total.

At the same time quarterback Jim Stringer, the serial artist, completed six of nine tosses for 97 yards. This gave him 840 yards passing for the season.

End Maurice Greer caught five of Stringer's heaves Thursday night for 75 yards.

However, Sonny Gibbs, the rangy Frog quarterback who tossed the 50-yard touchdown pass that knocked off Texas, ranked No. 1 at the time, and tied powerful Ohio State.

21-GAME SCHEDULE

Wildcat Cagers Seem Improved

PINEVILLE (Special) — Prospects point to a greatly improved 1961-62 Louisiana College basketball aggregation which opens a rugged 21-game schedule next Friday at Lafayette against powerful Southwest Louisiana.

However, the Wildcats will still be a rather young club. There will be only three seniors on the 12-member squad and only two of these returning lettermen.

One-third of the new roster will be sophomores and freshmen.

There are only two losses from last year's outfit that won only five of 21 starts. However, these include the team's highest and fourth highest scorers, Jim Rabinovich, branny Herrin, Ill., forward, who graduated, paced his 1960-61 mates with 255 points.

An unexpected blow to the team's current prospects was the recent decision of James Norris, improving junior guard from Minden, to drop out of school. He was the squad's fourth greatest point-maker last year, with 175 markers and being counted on as a probable starting guard this campaign.

Norris' departure leaves capable Billy Allgood, beginning his third year as Wildcat basketball headman, with only four guards, one of these an inexperienced freshman.

Also, the L.C. hoopmen will again play a back-breaking schedule, including tilts with three Southeastern Conference and an equal number of Gulf States Conference foes. These include Mississippi State, SEC champion, and Ole Miss and Tulane, two other classy Southeastern quintets.

Besides Southwest Louisiana, other GSC opponents include defense-minded McNeese, 1960-61 title-holder, and arch rival and always a dangerous Northwestern State.

There are six returning lettermen, all of whom started at least one game last year. And the squad is a rather tall one, with only one member under six-foot. In fact, nine are above this mark.

Seven of the returnees scored a total of 953 points during 1960-61, more than half of the "Cats' overall total of 1,496.

Senior Don Rogers, the team's new captain, a senior guard from Eunice, led this group of scorers with 218 points. This gives him an L.C. career total of 662 markers.

Sophomore Bill Johnson, forward from Dupo, Ill., got 202, junior Dale Hardwick, guard from Leesville, whom Coach Allgood describes as the "Cats' most improved player," had 155, junior Bobby Fortenberry, jumpingjack forward from Baton Rouge, had 149, and junior Ed Young, towering 6-5 center from Louisville, Miss., had 122.

Three non-lettering returnees from last year should also aid the new L.C. cause in Cecil McKinnon, 6-3 senior forward from Dothan, Ala., who won a monogram in 1959-60, Wendell McCraw, 6-5 senior forward from Glade, Miss., who was hampered last year by injuries, and Truett Bazemore, the squad's tallest man at 6-7, a promising sophomore center from Carthage, Tex.

Four newcomers should also prove invaluable to the "Cats. Two of these are junior college transfers in Grady Hickman, guard and former Bolton High of Alexandria star, who played the past two years at Pearl River (Miss.) Junior College, and Billy Holmes, 6-4 forward from McComb, Miss., who cavorted at Southwest (Miss.) Junior College.

The duo of freshmen are well-known in Central Louisiana. They are lanky Ricky Reese, high-scoring Leesville High forward, and stocky Ronnie Paul, one-half of the colorful twin-brother combination that sparkled at Dry Prong High the past four years.

The Wildcats will open their nine-game home slate Monday, Dec. 4, against McNeese in the Henry E. Walden gymnasium.

Florida State holds a 4-4-1 record that includes a tie with Georgia, Houston, with a 3-4-1 record, must defeat Florida State and Oregon State if it is to break even for the season.

Both teams are expected to specialize on passes.

Eddie Feely, 158-pound state quarterback, has completed 42 of 72 passes for 432 yards and four touchdowns for Florida State. He also is the leading ground gainer for the Seminoles, having netted 265 yards in 93 carries.

Houston will alternate Don Sessions and Billy Roland as the man-under in a Cougar attack that includes the winged-T double, winged T, slot-T, and spread formations.

Sessions has completed 30 of 76 passes for 355 yards and two touchdowns, while Roland has completed 27 of 35 for 281.

There are only two losses from last year's outfit that won only five of 21 starts. However, these include the team's highest and fourth highest scorers, Jim Rabinovich, branny Herrin, Ill., forward, who graduated, paced his 1960-61 mates with 255 points.

An unexpected blow to the team's current prospects was the recent decision of James Norris, improving junior guard from Minden, to drop out of school. He was the squad's fourth greatest point-maker last year, with 175 markers and being counted on as a probable starting guard this campaign.

Norris' departure leaves capable Billy Allgood, beginning his third year as Wildcat basketball headman, with only four guards, one of these an inexperienced freshman.

Also, the L.C. hoopmen will again play a back-breaking schedule, including tilts with three Southeastern Conference and an equal number of Gulf States Conference foes. These include Mississippi State, SEC champion, and Ole Miss and Tulane, two other classy Southeastern quintets.

Besides Southwest Louisiana, other GSC opponents include defense-minded McNeese, 1960-61 title-holder, and arch rival and always a dangerous Northwestern State.

There are six returning lettermen, all of whom started at least one game last year. And the squad is a rather tall one, with only one member under six-foot. In fact, nine are above this mark.

Seven of the returnees scored a total of 953 points during 1960-61, more than half of the "Cats' overall total of 1,496.

Senior Don Rogers, the team's new captain, a senior guard from Eunice, led this group of scorers with 218 points. This gives him an L.C. career total of 662 markers.

Sophomore Bill Johnson, forward from Dupo, Ill., got 202, junior Dale Hardwick, guard from Leesville, whom Coach Allgood describes as the "Cats' most improved player," had 155, junior Bobby Fortenberry, jumpingjack forward from Baton Rouge, had 149, and junior Ed Young, towering 6-5 center from Louisville, Miss., had 122.

Three non-lettering returnees from last year should also aid the new L.C. cause in Cecil McKinnon, 6-3 senior forward from Dothan, Ala., who won a monogram in 1959-60, Wendell McCraw, 6-5 senior forward from Glade, Miss., who was hampered last year by injuries, and Truett Bazemore, the squad's tallest man at 6-7, a promising sophomore center from Carthage, Tex.

Four newcomers should also prove invaluable to the "Cats. Two of these are junior college transfers in Grady Hickman, guard and former Bolton High of Alexandria star, who played the past two years at Pearl River (Miss.) Junior College, and Billy Holmes, 6-4 forward from McComb, Miss., who cavorted at Southwest (Miss.) Junior College.

The duo of freshmen are well-known in Central Louisiana. They are lanky Ricky Reese, high-scoring Leesville High forward, and stocky Ronnie Paul, one-half of the colorful twin-brother combination that sparkled at Dry Prong High the past four years.

The Wildcats will open their nine-game home slate Monday, Dec. 4, against McNeese in the Henry E. Walden gymnasium.

Florida State holds a 4-4-1 record that includes a tie with Georgia, Houston, with a 3-4-1 record, must defeat Florida State and Oregon State if it is to break even for the season.

Both teams are expected to specialize on passes.

Eddie Feely, 158-pound state quarterback, has completed 42 of 72 passes for 432 yards and four touchdowns for Florida State. He also is the leading ground gainer for the Seminoles, having netted 265 yards in 93 carries.

Houston will alternate Don Sessions and Billy Roland as the man-under in a Cougar attack that includes the winged-T double, winged T, slot-T, and spread formations.

Sessions has completed 30 of 76 passes for 355 yards and two touchdowns, while Roland has completed 27 of 35 for 281.

Owls Could Earn Bowl Trip Today

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Giant-killer Texas Christian University and Rice tangled Saturday in a Southwest Conference football game that could launch the Owls into a post season bowl contest.

Texas' victory Thursday over Texas A&M killed the Owls' slim hopes for a share of the conference championship but they still have a solid shot at a bowl bid.

TCU, with three SWC setbacks, was eliminated from the race.

Rice, 5-3 for the season and 3-2 in the league, will be facing an unpredictable TCU team that knocked off Texas, ranked No. 1 at the time, and tied powerful Ohio State.

The Frogs are still basking in the limelight of their stunning 6-0 upset of Texas and Rice could be just the team to bring them back to reality.

However, Sonny Gibbs, the rangy Frog quarterback who tossed the 50-yard touchdown pass that knocked off Texas, ranked No. 1 at the time, and tied powerful Ohio State.

Georgia Woman Aids In Saving South's Recipes

ATLANTA — If it weren't for the energy of a petite 98-year-old Atlanta woman, traditional Southern cooking might have gone the way of columned mansions.

There probably isn't a woman in Georgia — and maybe the South — who doesn't cherish some of Mrs. S. R. Dull's recipes. And her book, "Southern Cooking," has gone to all parts of the world.

Mrs. Dull was born in the lean Civil War year of 1863 at Stanley Mill near Dublin, Ga. Reared on a plantation where food was abundant and good cooking a part of her heritage, she made a hobby of trying every dish she heard about, and duplicating everything she sampled.

In those days, few recipes were put on paper. How-to-do-it was passed on by word of mouth. Even the best cooks used a dab of this and a pinch of that.

If it were not for Mrs. Dull's amazing memory, her ability to take obscure directions and turn them into tasty dishes, then tackling the monumental task of putting them all into a book, many old South recipes would have been lost forever.

When Mrs. Dull was growing up, woman's place was definitely in the kitchen because she had to prepare three meals a day.

"There was no refrigeration and leftover went to the dog and cat and not into the icebox for tomorrow's casserole," she says.

"Factories didn't turn out jellies and preserves, housewives did that themselves when fruits and berries were ripe. They also canned their own corn and vegetables."

When Mrs. Dull was left a widow with six children to support, she turned to the thing she knew and loved — cooking. However, her career began in a modest way.

"It was a very common practice back then," Mrs. Dull says, "for women to make up their own fruit cake batter and take it to a bakery to be baked."

Mrs. Dull offered to do this for her neighbors and the word spread. Soon church folks and neighbors were asking for more cookery service and more information about good food. Mrs. Dull found herself in the cooking-school business.

Soon she was demonstrating cooking to schools over the South and she claims to have started a new profession that now employs hundreds of people.

Mrs. Dull went to work for a gas and light company teaching young women how to get the most out of their ranges. Since then, many manufacturers and distributors have adopted the home service idea.

For 20 years, Mrs. Dull contributed the cooking page for the Atlanta Journal magazine, giving not only recipes and food information, but solving individual cooking problems for readers. The system worked both ways. Readers sent her their favorite recipes and she compiled the best of these into her cook book.

Hopes Still Held For Rockefeller

MERAUKE, New Guinea (AP) — despite the intense search by a 50-50 chance still exists that Michael Rockefeller survived a 3½-mile swim through shark-infested waters and it somewhere in the jungle, a Dutch leader of the weeklong search said Friday.

The Dutch commissioner for southern New Guinea, F. R. J. Elbrink Jansen, based his appraisal on the fact that two gasoline cans, a vital element in the hunt, have still to turn up.

Gilbert Sets Stiff Law On Theft Of Dogs

JONESVILLE (Special) — A bill "making it a pretty stiff offense for anyone caught stealing a dog" will be introduced at the next session of the Louisiana Legislature by Sen. J. C. "Sonny" Gilbert.

Gilbert said the measure he plans to introduce has already been pre-session filed and that the penalty set forth calls for a minimum fine of $25 or three months and a maximum fine of $300 or six months, or both on the first offense.

"I personally have lost several good deer hounds and believe that most of these were stolen," Gilbert said.

He added, "As all of you deer and bird hunters know, you feed and care for your dogs the year round, just to hunt probably 12 or 15 times. So I have no sympathy for anyone who would steal a hunting dog."

U.S. Population May Reach 185 Million Nov. 30

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. population, gaining at the rate of 10.5 a second, will reach 185 million at 3 p. m. Nov. 30, the Census Bureau estimated Friday.

This would be a one-year increase of 3 million in a year for a nation which ranks fourth behind Red China, India and Russia among the world's most populous.

To mark the occasion, Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges plans to pose for photographs at a census register with babies and school children to emphasize that the younger age group accounts for the greatest increase in number and proportion.

The Census Bureau arranges such ceremonies whenever its scoreboards records a 5 million population gain. The last such affair was held in April 1960 when a 180 million total was recorded.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

RHEUMATIC FEVER AND COLDS

A Canadian mother writes: "My 7 year old son had what our doctor called a borderline case of rheumatic fever two years ago. His sed rate was 16 and I kept him in bed for five weeks until it dropped to 5. There has been no apparent damage to his heart."

"The doctor advised me to take good care of the boy for a year or two and the chances are he will outgrow the danger of recurrence. I am to call him immediately at the first sign of fever. In the last two years he has had several long lasting penicillin needles, and penicillin capsules have been ordered a few times for this infection. His sed rate has stayed down; it was 4 the last time tested."

"Now, how do I take good care of him? I don't want him to feel smothered but I know how important it is to keep him well. Should he be put to bed at the first sniffle and kept home from school on a rainy day? He complains of an ache here or there occasionally. Aspirin clears it up but I still worry."

Recurrences of rheumatic fever are discouraged by avoiding the streptococcal infections that trigger the disease. This can be done in various ways. The first and least practical is to stay away from anyone with a cold or to move to a climate where streptococcal infections are not prevalent.

The second is along the lines suggested by your physician. Watch the child carefully and see that he gets a large dose of penicillin at the first sign of a cold. No attempt is made to determine whether the respiratory infection is caused by strep bugs. The physician assumes it is and gives enough medication to kill every streptococcus in the body.

The third method is recommended most often for children. The youngster is given a daily capsule or pill containing a sulfonamide or an antibiotic. An alternative is a monthly injection of a long acting penicillin mixture that takes 30 days to absorb. These methods keep the body free from strep germs and prevent them. This is logical because it is the streptococcal infection that triggers rheumatic fever, which usually follows in 10 to 14 days.

Khrushchev Tells Finns To Fortify

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev bluntly told Finnish President Urho Kekkonen Friday measures are most necessary "before it is too late to curb the West German militarists," he said, threatening the peace of northern Europe.

That was why he has called for military consultations with Finland, on "fortifying the frontiers of Finland and the Soviet Union," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev and Kekkonen conferred in a cottage on the outskirts of the Siberian city of Novosibirsk as the Finnish leader sought the reasons behind the Soviet Union's sudden request of Oct. 30 for military talks.

A joint communique said the conference was held "in a spirit of open-mindedness, mutual understanding and sincere confidence" and in a "heartily and friendly atmosphere."

Despite the lack of detail, diplomats who feared the Soviet Union was preparing to compromise Finnish neutrality by demanding military bases, were heartened for a short time by the tone of the communique.

Then a report by the official Soviet news agency Tass of a later speech by Khrushchev at a luncheon for Kekkonen made clear the Soviet leader is not letting up on the pressure.

He claimed that the Soviet Union does not want to interfere in Finland's home affairs, but nevertheless charged that right-wing "Tannerites"—associates of the Social Democrat former foreign minister, Vaino Tanner—were trying to restore a "brotherhood-in-arms with the West German reactionists and militarists."

Funeral services for William W. Chandler, 92, of West Monroe, will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. in the Hixson Brothers Funeral Home Chapel with the Dr. Clifton Tension, pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe officiating.

Mr. Chandler died in a local hospital early Friday.

After the chapel services the body will be taken to the Friendship Baptist Church in Pollock for a service at 2:30 p. m. Burial will follow in the church cemetery.

Survivors include one son, I. B. Chandler, Seminole, Okla.; three daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Polard, Sidell, Mrs. Gladys Eyre, West Monroe, and Mrs. A. H. Lolley, West Monroe; one sister, Mrs. Jane Adams, St. Francisville; 15 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Palbearers will be John Blankenship, A. C. Williams, Odis Bead, Joe Skeen, Gordon Lolley and Horace Eyre.

SORE CORNERS

C. B. writes: For two years I have been doctoring for sores at the corners of my mouth but can't get them to heal. Is it possible to find and remove the cause?

REPLY

Yes, provided the cracks represent a vitamin B deficiency or an extension of infection from the mouth. Penicillin ointment, for example, is helpful in the latter cause.

NERVOUS HEADACHES

M. L. M. writes: Can any tests be given to determine whether headaches are due to nervousness?

REPLY

Yes, but only by using tests that exclude other causes of headache. When the results are negative, the physician must probe the events preceding the headache, along with the emotional and nervous make-up of the individual.

CONTINUE EXERCISING

H. S. W. writes: At what age should a person stop doing exercises?

REPLY

Until he becomes incapacitated, which may take place at age 5 or 105.

HEMATOCRIT

J. S. writes: Is a blood count of 35 serious?

REPLY

No. I assume you refer to the hematocrit, which varies from 38 to 54 in women. In other words, 35 is close to normal.

ONE SIDED WINKING

S. D. writes: Why is it that I can wink only one eye?

REPLY

I don't know unless it is because you never learned to wink the other.

Americans Held Captive By Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — At least one of four American military advisers listed as missing in action since last April was captured by the pro-Communist Laotian rebels forces, Soviet-bloc newsmen said Friday.

The Communist correspondents said a reporter for the official Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda saw Sgt. Orville R. Ballinger in Red-held territory shortly after the soldier was reported missing.

Ballinger was one of four American military advisers with royal Laotian forces at Vang Vieng which was overrun by the rebels last April 22.

The Pravda reporter said he had no information on what happened to Ballinger later or the fate of the three other Americans officially listed as missing after the battle. They were Capt. Walter H. Moon, Sgt. John M. Biscoff and Sgt. Gerald M. Biber.

The Army officially announced they were missing last May 2.

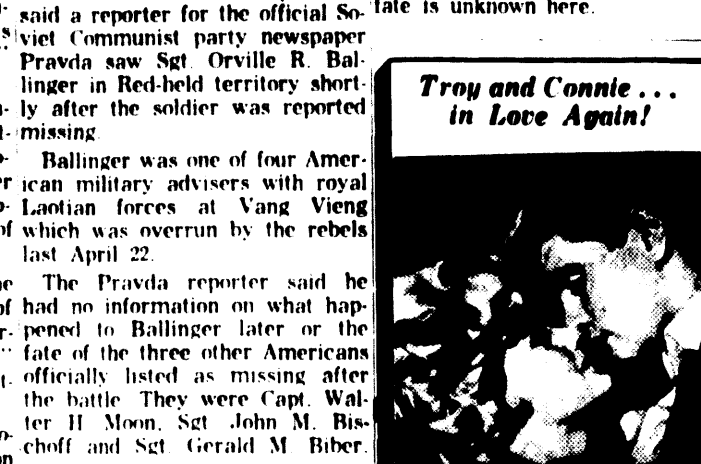

Ballinger, 27, is the son of Mrs. Lena Matthews of 371 N. Algonquin Ave., Columbus, Ohio. His wife, Miyoko, lists her address as "Spiers, Trailer Park, Spring Lake, N.C."

Prince Souvanna Phouma, leader of the Laotian "neutralist" faction, said in Rangoon two months ago that the Communists were holding "about a dozen" American prisoners. The only one he identified by name was NBC cameraman Grant Wolfkill of Seattle, Wash.

Souvanna told U.S. special ambassador W. Averell Harriman then that letters and packages could be sent to the American captives, but gave no details how. Messages and medical supplies have been sent to the rebel-held Xieng Khouang Province through the International Control Commission but there has been no proof that they reached the prisoners.

Wolfkill was one of three American civilians captured when their helicopter was forced down over guerrilla-infested territory. The others were Edward R. Shore, of Gallopax, Tenn., and John P. Mc Morrow, of Brookline, Mass., and Mc Morrow were employees of Air American, owners of the helicopter.

Also believed in Red hands is Charles J. Duffy, a private contractor from Watkins, Glen, N.Y., who was reported captured last Jan. 13 while on a hunting trip north of Vientiane.

French, British Leaders Confer

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan attempted Friday night in the privacy of his well-guarded country home to convince French President de Gaulle that the West now should seek negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin.

Aides suggested that the British leader feels the prospects for a successful East-West conference probably are brighter than they have been for several months.

De Gaulle arrived by plane from Paris for a weekend of confidential discussions with Macmillan on problems basic to the whole Western diplomatic posture.

Behind a screen of policemen, the two men went at once to Birch Grove, Macmillan's Georgian style house in Sussex 40 miles from London.

There, shut away from the outside world, they sipped tea and talked about Berlin and the movement for Western European political and economic unity.

For the last two months De Gaulle has enforced what London diplomats refer to as a dead hand on Berlin. He said the Western powers should not hurry to a conference table to negotiate a Soviet-manufactured crisis. He wanted the Soviets to make the first conciliatory move.

De Gaulle may or may not have changed his mind. If he has, this should be shown in Allied policy in the near future.

Informants predicted that if the Birch Grove talks go well, Macmillan and De Gaulle will give a go-ahead for East-West negotiations.

Macmillan was reported to have

U.S. Rejects Charges Of Misconduct

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department emphatically rejected charges of misconduct by American sailors in Guinea.

The leftist government of Sekou Toure was reported to have asked two American Navy vessels on a goodwill mission to leave Conakry after two days, complaining that the visiting American sailors "disgusted" the people of the Guinea capital.

"We deny categorically that there was misconduct of American sailors on Conakry in connection with this visit," State Department spokesman Lincoln White told a news conference Friday.

The two ships, the USS Donner and Suffolk County, both LSDs floating drydock ships—have been on a goodwill tour of Africa's Atlantic coast for about a year.

Conakry had been a port of call last February, and the sailors were well-received there at that time, White said.

"In no other instance has there been anything but highest praise for the conduct of the American servicemen," the spokesman added.

The two ships, with approximately 400 sailors on board, arrived in Conakry again Nov. 17, on a goodwill visit approved by the Guinea government. They were "voluntarily withdrawn" from Conakry by Rear Adm. Allan Reed, commander of the unit, after the government of Guinea canceled the balance of the scheduled program, including liberty for officers and men. White reported. The visit was to last for three days.

White said. "Both the U.S. Embassy and Adm. Reed's staff carefully investigated three alleged incidents and found no evidence of them having taken place."

White said he had no details on the incidents, which included according to Conakry news dispatches, the stabbing of "peaceful citizens."

The sailors were also accused of taking photographs where it was not permitted, and of having "mocked" the city's inhabitants.

State Department officials familiar with what happened in Conakry said that, although the Guinea government had approved the goodwill mission in advance, it was clear from the beginning that the official attitude was sour.

By way of example, American officials said Guinean functionaries didn't show up at scheduled appointments or at functions they agreed to attend.

Philippines Will Buy U.S. Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced Friday it will sell the Philippines $21,750,000 worth of cotton under the farm surplus program.

This would represent about 150,000 bales.

The Philippines will pay for the cotton in their own currency, part of which will be set aside for loans for economic development.

TO SEE SON
LONDON (UPI)—The public will get its first peek at Princess Margaret's son next week, news agencies were informed Friday.

Photographs of the infant born Nov. 3 have been taken by his father, one-time professional photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, now earl of Snowdon, and will be available for publication next Wednesday.

Area Resident Hit By Train; Is Serious

FERRISDAY (Special) — A 72-year-old retired farmer was struck by a train in a dense fog early Friday morning and was reported in serious condition at a Ferrisday clinic last night.

Authorities identified the man as Dalton Ireland, who lives near Old River. The man had started on foot to ward town to get a tank filled with fuel to heat his residence. Ireland said he did not hear or see the train approaching in the dense fog before it struck him. The crossing where he was struck is located on Minnesota Road Camp Road. He was hospitalized at Dr. L. P. Coleman's Clinic. Neighbors nearby saw the accident and called an ambulance. The incident occurred about 1:30 a.m. Ireland had lived in Franklin for until coming to Ferrisday last spring. He has a small cattle house and hunt and fish.

SNOW FLURRIES are expected Saturday from North Dakota eastward into upper Great Lakes. Fair weather and mild temperatures are forecast for the southern Plateau, plains region and mid and lower Mississippi valley into Ohio and Tennessee valleys. Cooled temperatures will occur over the Carolinas while remaining portions of the country will note little change in temperature. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Rockefeller Search Costs Large Sum

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's search for his son Michael in New Guinea apparently will cost some $50,000, as best they can be calculated here.

The major cost was the chartering of a Pan American World Airways jet to carry the Rockefeller party of six from Hawaii to Biak on the north coast of New Guinea. The standard charge of $5 a mile, plus $3 a mile for returning the plane empty to Honolulu, came to a total of $38,500. Newsmen who went with the governor will share in the costs.

The Rockefeller group flew by regular airline from here to Hawaii at a cost of $359.45 each, or a total of $2,156.70. Presumably Rockefeller paid the bill for all.

The party is expected to return by way of Tokyo. The Tokyo-New York fare is $871, which would cost the group a total of $5,226. The fare from New Guinea to Tokyo was not available here. There also was no way to estimate how much Rockefeller may have spent on charter flights around New Guinea and in other expenses.

Those in the party included Michael's 23-year-old twin sister, Mary Strawberry; Berent Friele, a long-time friend of the governor and director of the International Basic Economy Corp.; Robert L. McManus, press secretary; Edward Galvin, a New York State police lieutenant and Rockefeller's bodyguard; and Dr. Robert G. Gardner of Harvard's Peabody Museum.

Dr. Gardner had led a New Guinea expedition earlier this year in which the governor's son took part.

Resolution On Crossing Made In Catahoula

JONESVILLE (Special) — The Catahoula Parish Police Jury has adopted a resolution requesting the Louisiana Department of Highways to construct a crossing over the Tensas River at a point between the foot of the Doughty road and the mouth of the Tensas River.

The jury said at present persons living in the vicinity have to travel all the way to Clayton or to Harrisonburg to reach points east and south.

Many miles of travel would be avoided if a crossing were built, it said.

Negro Is Booked In Weapon Case

Monroe police Friday booked a 32-year-old local Negro woman on charges of carrying a concealed weapon (a knife) and being drunk and disorderly.

Apparent Low Bid On Area Underpass Cited

JONESVILLE (Special) — Rep. W. S. Peck Jr. and Sen. J. C. "Sonny" Gilbert announced that an apparent low bid of $170,131 for improvement of Archie underpass on U. S. Hwy. 84 in Catahoula Parish has been submitted. The bid was made by J. A. Harper of Crowley for the 1.1-mile road improvement.

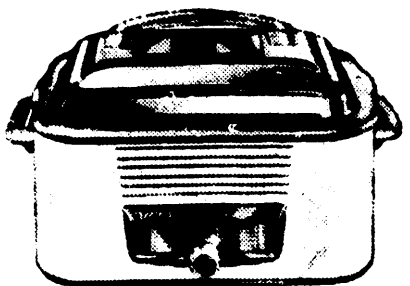

Time for completion of the project is expected to be nine months after the contract is awarded.

The Jonesville Chamber of Commerce and the Jonesville Lions Club backed the drive for the project.

Proponents of improvements said a dangerous situation exists at the present underpass site due to the dip in the road bed, water overflow and low clearance.

Brazil-Soviet Ties Climax Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The renewal of diplomatic relations between Brazil and the Soviet Union was the expected conclusion of a long series of negotiations, a U.S. State Department official said Friday. And he added it might bring Brazil some international headlines.

"It's none of our business, although we don't go around encouraging countries to establish relations with Russia," seemed to be the official position.

The re-establishment of relations culminated negotiations that began under ex-President Janio Quadros and continued under President Joao Goulart. It ended a 14-year break between Brazil and the Soviet Union. It may have opened up another center from which Communist propaganda and subversion could flow into the South American continent, the source said.

"We have always publicized the dangers inherent in having relations with the Soviet Union. There are such problems as controlling the size and activities of Soviet Embassy staffs and the problem of security against actual subversion and propaganda," the official said.

In making the new move, Brazil joins Argentina, Mexico, Uruguay, and Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba as the only Latin-American nations having diplomatic relations with the U.S.S.R. Uruguay has had its problems with the Soviet Embassy in Montevideo. Last Oct. 5, the Uruguay government clamped restrictions on the size and movements of the Soviet Union's diplomatic staff, which numbered about 60.
